Labor Chiefs Ponder Next Move On Bill

Executive Council Of AFL-CIO Meets In Pennsylvania

FOREST PARK, Pa. (AP)—Top leaders of organized labor gathered today to nurse political wounds from their recent labor bill defeat in Congress and to consider inter-union conflict.

Members of the AFL—CIO Executive Council—the federation's high command—mapped plans to try to salvage the best bill possible from the union viewpoint between Senate and House-passed versions.

The union leaders like neither one, but prefer the Senate bill sponsored by Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Sam J. Ervin Jr., (D-NC) over the House bill by Reps. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga) and Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich). The House bill is supported by President Eisenhower.

Federation leaders already were talking of stepping up political action plans to try to defeat in the 1960 election many of the members of the Democratic-Republican coalition which formed to put over the Landrum-Griffin House bill last week.

Labor leaders are growing cool to the Democratic party, one member of the AFL - CIO high command told newsmen.

This official said privately that union leaders feel the Democrats, with almost a two-thirds majority of House and Senate, did not exercise the political control available to them.

Competitive jurisdictional feuds between AFL - CIO unions have been growing. A number of unions have been thumbing their noses at jurisdictional awards made under the AFL - CIO no - raid machinery and by the AFL-CIO Execute Council.

There seems to be come disposition to change the no - raid machinery so that special consideration could be given in the future to accommodate groups of workers who want to switch unions.

As things stand now, the union that has traditionally represented a worker group in a given plant or industry must continue to do so under the no-raid plan. But the National Labor Relations Board has been insisting, in a series of decisions, that the workers be assured their legal right to change unions if they so desire.

Lt. Kidd Quits As Policeman

Veteran City Officer Cites Long Illness

Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross today announced the resignation of Lt. George B. Kidd from the police force.

Kidd offered no reason for resigning in his letter to the director, but Ross said it was because of illness. Kidd, a veteran officer on the force, has been ill for about six months. He suffered a neck injury when a police cruiser in which he was riding was struck from the rear by a private auto.

Kidd joined the force July 13, 1936. He originally was appointed a lieutenant March 1, 1948, but was demoted to patrolman May 1, 1956. He served as a patrolman for a year before being reappointed as lieutenant May 1, 1957.

The reduction in rank was prompted by a Grand Jury report on the police department, but Arnold Devon who was mayor at the time, said the demotion was illegal and made under "duress."

Kidd explained in a letter that he has been granted a pension by the Police Pension Board. He made his resignation effective the same time the pension went into effect, Ross said. Kidd said he was resigning with "much regret and some misgivings."

$14,000 Loss Set In Fire At Webber Barn

Landmark Destroyed Near West Point As Cartridges Explode

Loss was estimated at $14,000 today after fire Saturday afternoon destroyed a big barn at Crockery City Farms near West Point—a landmark for Route 30 motorists for many years.

West Point volunteer firemen battled futilely to save the structure, despite the fact they were periled by he explosions of shotgun shells stored in the barn by East Liverpool men who held skeet shoots on the farm.

Other skeet shooting equipment and a quantity of hay also were destroyed.

The barn, 40-x-60-feet, was owned by Leonard Webber. Firemen said the blaze may have been touched off by a cigarette. The loss was partially covered with insurance, they said.

The 15-member volunteer fire department played water on the flames for two and a half hours. They said they had no chance to save the building because the fire had attained a big head start by the time they arrived.

George Brewer, a neighbor, discovered the blaze and summoned firemen.

The barn, one of seven on the farm, was built in 1875 and was unique in the fact that wooden pegs were used in its construction instead of nails.

Firemen managed to save equipment which hurls clay pigeons into the air for skeet shooting, but an undetermined number of the targets were lost.

The blaze was discovered about 5 p. m.

Hot, Steamy Weather Scheduled To Continue

Broiling hot, humid weather apparently is scheduled to remain in the East Liverpool district through Tuesday.

Despite scattered showers forecast for today, the mercury will rise to 86-91, the Ohio weatherman said. It will be partly cloudy with little change in temperature Tuesday. Afternoon showers are expected. The low tonight will be 68-72.

Dam 8 at Newell recorded an 87-degree high at 2 p. m. Sunday. Twenty hundredths of an inch of rain was recorded in a shower about 4 p. m. The overnight low was 76.

28 Constables Lose Spots On Ballot For Fall

The Columbiana County Election Board today removed from the Nov. 3 general election ballot the names of 28 candidates for constables' offices in 16 of the county's 19 townships.

The only townships unaffected are Middleton and Wayne, in which no constable aspirants filed, and Liverpool, which has not elected a constable for many years.

The Election Board acted because the State Legislature recently enacted a law effective Nov. 6 which abolishes the elective office of constable throughout Ohio. To save taxpayers the expense of electing officials to posts scheduled for abolishment a few days later, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown ordered the names removed from the ballot.

The county board acted promptly because it is scheduled to award ballot contracts at a meeting tonight at 8.

The new statute allows township trustees to appoint police constables and another new law allows them to submit a tax levy for the purpose of paying the officials.

The Election Board said state law forbids it from refunding the $1 filing fees paid by the constable candidates. The new law was not filed in the office of the secretary of state until after the Aug. 5 filing deadline for candidates, which made it impossible to warn away prospectve constable candidates, the board explained.

Contractor Launches 'Hill Rd.' Resurfacing

Work was started this morning by Edgar Spring, Inc., New Philadelphia contractor, on the resurfacing of the E. 5th St. Hill and the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." from Broadway to Maple St. in the East End.

Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross said work on the $35,000 project should be completed in two or three days, depending on the weather.

The firm started applying "tack coating" this morning. "Tack coating" includes spraying the roadway with a thin ashaltic oil and then addng a coat of sand to provide an adhesive for the new blacktop. A leveling coat of blacktop then will be applied before the finishing coat, he said.

Sadelle S. Brinson, 42, was Columbiana County's 23rd traffic victim of 1959.

Mr. Brinson leaves his widow, a sister and two brothers, all of Pittsburgh and Canton.

The body is at the Matthews Funeral Home in Canton. Arrangements are pending.

Ike, Nation Mourn

Adm. Halsey Dies During Vacation

FISHERS ISLAND, N.Y. (AP) —President Eisenhower led the nation today in mourning the death of Fleet Adm. William F. (Bull) Halsey.

Halsey, 76, died here Sunday of a heart attack while vacationing.

He gained fame as the admiral who chased the Japanese fleet to its death in the Pacific in World War II.

Eisenhower, who heard the news of Halsey's death at Gettysburg, Pa., said he had lost a warm personal friend, and the nation one of its "great natural leaders."

"His great personal contribution to the successful campaigns in the Pacific and the exploits of the forces under his command are a brilliant part of American military history," said Eisenhower.

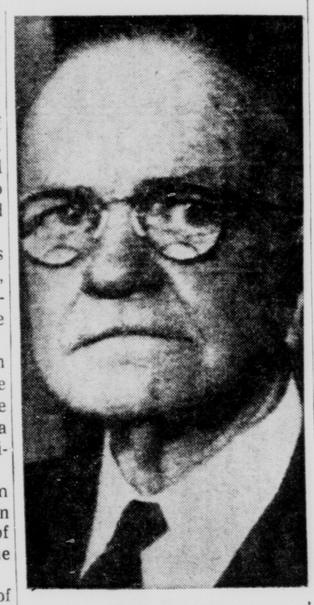

Secretary of the Navy William B. Franke said in Washington that Halsey "leaves a heritage of inspiration to those now in the Navy.

Another great military figure of the Pacific war, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, said, "He was one of our greatest admirals, and his name will always be associated with our great victory over Japan."

Halsey was born in Elizabeth, N.J., the son of a ship captain. He was never an outstanding scholar, but managed to enter Annapolis, and played fullback on the football team. On graduation in 1904, the yearbook called him "a real old salt."

When Halsey took command of Navy forces in the South Pacific in 1942, the tide of war was running heavily in favor of Japan.

Final Details Ironed Out At Chile Meeting

Castro's Brother To Join Ministers At Today's Session

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Fidel Castro's brother Raul flies into Santiago today as the foreign ministers of Latin America and the United States argue out final details of a compromise plan to calm things down in the Caribbean.

The younger Castro's impact on the foreign ministers' talks—now in their sixth day—was likely to be light. It was not even certain he would appear before the conference. However, it was understood in Havana that he was bringing documents purporting to link the Dominican Republic's dictator, Generalissmo Rafael Trujillo, with the anti-Castro conspiracy the Cuban regime says it uncovered last week.

The foreign ministers meanwhile hammered out agreement on a set of resolutions being presented to the conference's general committee. It was expected they would be signed at a final conference session Tuesday.

The key resolution would give the already existing Inter-American Peace Committee of the Organiation of American States temporary powers to study "methods and procedures to prevent activities originating abroad designed to overthrow constituted governments."

The aim is to prevent such things as the invasion of Panama last April by about 100 men, mostly Cubans, recent invasions of Nicaragua from Costa Rica and Honduras, the Dominican campaign against Castro and Castro's against Trujillo.

The resolution balances this fire prevention agency urged by the United States with provisions to meet demands by Cuba and Venezuela for emphasis on strict observance of human rights and representative democracy and economic help for underdeveloped nations.

Joint Parleys Continue Into Steel Walkout

More Of Senators Look To President For Help In Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — More U.S. senators were looking to the White House for help in settling the nationwide steel strike as joint negotiations were set here today.

Talks between teams representing the industry and the striking United Steelworkers of America recessed for the weekend last Friday as the stoppage became a month old. There was no indication of progress toward agreement on a new contract.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, is sitting in on the negotiations.

Two Republican senators announced they would introduce in the Senate today a resolution asking that President Eisenhower make public the facts about the strike that he possesses.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell has been acting as Eisenhower's fact-finder on the strike.

Sens. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) and George D. Aiken (R-Vt) said in a joint statement in Washington that their resolution would be a substitute for a pending resolution introduced by Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) and signed by 32 other Democratic senators.

In asking that the President make public at once a report by Mitchell, Javits and Aiken said such a move "should be able to crystallize the weight of public opinion to bring about a settlement of the strike or indicate what further steps may be taken to bring it about."

Javits and Aiken said their proposal that Eisenhower tell the public just what Mitchell has determined to date as fact-finder would omit the Symington resolution request that the President act as a mediator or make recommendations on settlement terms.

White House May Receive Action Today

Legislation Retains All Key Programs In Reduced Form

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate takes up today a new $1,050,000,000 housing bill to replace one which President Eisenhower vetoed.

There was a possibility the measure might go to the White House late in the day. If the Senate acts in time, the House may take it up at once under a rules suspension procedure requiring a two-thirds vote.

The bill is trimmed down below the $1,375,000,000 total in the measure Eisenhower vetoed last month. But it still retains all the major programs of the earlier version in a reduced form.

The veto was upheld in the Senate last Wednesday on a 55-40 vote, 9 short of the two-thirds needed to override. The Senate Banking Committee then whipped out the substitute bill Thursday.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala), floor manager for the measure, predicted it would be approved promptly. He conceded the bill had been shaped with the idea that the House could take it without change.

No official word has come from the administration, however, that President Eisenhower is willing to accept the new measure.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind), senior Republican on the Housing subcommittee, said he believed the President would sign the bill. If he does not, Capehart said, there will be enough votes to override a second veto.

The bill contains authorizations for several government-backed housing programs and also several provisions designed to aid the private home building industry.

Power Plant's Walkout Ends

Boilermakers Union Withdraws Pickets

An estimated 540 workers on the multi-million dollar Ohio Edison Co. power plant project at Stratton returned to their jobs today after being idled for 11 days because of striking boilermakers.

Construction on the $118 million power plant was halted Aug. 6 when members of Boilermakers Union 154 of Pittsburgh put several pickets at the plant entrance.

The pickets were withdrawn from the power plant gates Friday night, but boilermakers both at the super-dam project and two projects in Pittsburgh still were idle today—awaiting results of negotiations which opened this morning in Pittsburgh.

The boilermakers, most of whom are employed at the super-dam site by the Foster-Wheeler Corp. of New York, have been on strike since their contract expired June 1.

Union employes, including electrical workers, pipefitters and other craftsmen on the power plant project, refused to cross boilermaker picket lines and thus halted construction.

Representatives of at least 15 employers were to begin negotiations with Local 154 today. The union, which claims a membership of 750, will meet tonight to discuss the results of this morning's session.

After several comparatively safe and sane weekends, Ohio's accidental death toll jumped to its highest total in over a month.

In the 54-hour period ended Sunday midnight, 29 persons died in the state—24 of them on Ohio's highways.

Seven of the highway deaths occurred in two crashes. Four women were killed Saturday in a two-car crash at an intersection near Mansfield. A father and two of his children were killed Friday night in a pileup of two cars and a truck near Marysville.

Besides the highway deaths, three youths drowned, a 9-year-old girl was killed when she fell from a horse and a Springfield man died of burns received when a hot water tank exploded.

The fatalities:

Ike, Nation Mourn

Adm. Halsey Dies During Vacation

FISHERS ISLAND, N.Y. (AP) —President Eisenhower led the nation today in mourning the death of Fleet Adm. William F. (Bull) Halsey.

Halsey, 76, died here Sunday of a heart attack while vacationing.

He gained fame as the admiral who chased the Japanese fleet to its death in the Pacific in World War II.

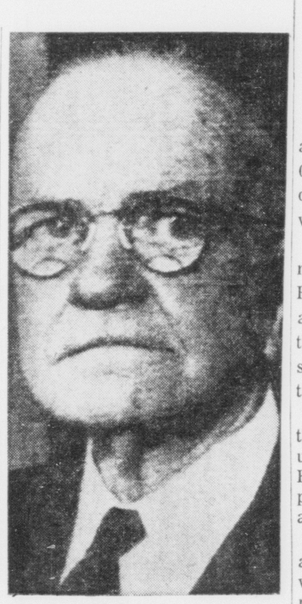

Eisenhower, who heard the news of Halsey's death at Gettysburg, Pa., said he had lost a warm personal friend, and the nation one of its "great natural leaders."

"His great personal contribution to the successful campaigns in the Pacific and the exploits of the forces under his command are a brilliant part of American military history," said Eisenhower.

Secretary of the Navy William B. Franke said in Washington that Halsey "leaves a heritage of inspiration to those now in the Navy.

Another great military figure of the Pacific war, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, said, "He was one of our greatest admirals, and his name will always be associated with our great victory over Japan."

Halsey was born in Elizabeth, N.J., the son of a ship captain. He was never an outstanding scholar, but managed to enter Annapolis, and played fullback on the football team. On graduation in 1904, the yearbook called him "a real old salt."

When Halsey took command of Navy forces in the South Pacific in 1942, the tide of war was running heavily in favor of Japan.

White House May Receive Action Today

Legislation Retains All Key Programs In Reduced Form

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate takes up today a new $1,050,000,000 housing bill to replace one which President Eisenhower vetoed.

There was a possibility the measure might go to the White House late in the day. If the Senate acts in time, the House may take it up at once under a rules suspension procedure requiring a two-thirds vote.

The bill is trimmed down below the $1,375,000,000 total in the measure Eisenhower vetoed last month. But it still retains all the major programs of the earlier version in a reduced form.

The veto was upheld in the Senate last Wednesday on a 55-40 vote, 9 short of the two-thirds needed to override. The Senate Banking Committee then whipped out the substitute bill Thursday.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala), floor manager for the measure, predicted it would be approved promptly. He conceded the bill had been shaped with the idea that the House could take it without change.

No official word has come from the administration, however, that President Eisenhower is willing to accept the new measure.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind), senior Republican on the Housing subcommittee, said he believed the President would sign the bill. If he does not, Capehart said, there will be enough votes to override a second veto.

The bill contains authorizations for several government-backed housing programs and also several provisions designed to aid the private home building industry.

Final Details Ironed Out At Chile Meeting

Castro's Brother To Join Ministers At Today's Session

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Fidel Castro's brother Raul flies into Santiago today as the foreign ministers of Latin America and the United States argue out final details of a compromise plan to calm things down in the Caribbean.

The younger Castro's impact on the foreign ministers' talks—now in their sixth day—was likely to be light. It was not even certain he would appear before the conference. However, it was understood in Havana that he was bringing documents purporting to link the Dominican Republic's dictator, Generalissmo Rafael Trujillo, with the anti-Castro conspiracy the Cuban regime says it uncovered last week.

The foreign ministers meanwhile hammered out agreement on a set of resolutions being presented to the conference's general committee. It was expected they would be signed at a final conference session Tuesday.

The key resolution would give the already existing Inter-American Peace Committee of the Organiation of American States temporary powers to study "methods and procedures to prevent activities originating abroad designed to overthrow constituted governments."

The aim is to prevent such things as the invasion of Panama last April by about 100 men, mostly Cubans, recent invasions of Nicaragua from Costa Rica and Honduras, the Dominican campaign against Castro and Castro's against Trujillo.

The resolution balances this fire prevention agency urged by the United States with provisions to meet demands by Cuba and Venezuela for emphasis on strict observance of human rights and representative democracy and economic help for underdeveloped nations.

Joint Parleys Continue Into Steel Walkout

More Of Senators Look To President For Help In Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — More U.S. senators were looking to the White House for help in settling the nationwide steel strike as joint negotiations were set here today.

Talks between teams representing the industry and the striking United Steelworkers of America recessed for the weekend last Friday as the stoppage became a month old. There was no indication of progress toward agreement on a new contract.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, is sitting in on the negotiations.

Two Republican senators announced they would introduce in the Senate today a resolution asking that President Eisenhower make public the facts about the strike that he possesses.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell has been acting as Eisenhower's fact-finder on the strike.

Sens. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) and George D. Aiken (R-Vt) said in a joint statement in Washington that their resolution would be a substitute for a pending resolution introduced by Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) and signed by 32 other Democratic senators.

In asking that the President make public at once a report by Mitchell, Javits and Aiken said such a move "should be able to crystallize the weight of public opinion to bring about a settlement of the strike or indicate what further steps may be taken to bring it about."

Javits and Aiken said their proposal that Eisenhower tell the public just what Mitchell has determined to date as fact-finder would omit the Symington resolution request that the President act as a mediator or make recommendations on settlement terms.

Power Plant's Walkout Ends

Boilermakers Union Withdraws Pickets

An estimated 540 workers on the multi-million dollar Ohio Edison Co. power plant project at Stratton returned to their jobs today after being idled for 11 days because of striking boilermakers.

Construction on the $118 million power plant was halted Aug. 6 when members of Boilermakers Union 154 of Pittsburgh put several pickets at the plant entrance.

The pickets were withdrawn from the power plant gates Friday night, but boilermakers both at the superdam project and two projects in Pittsburgh still were idle today—awaiting results of negotiations which opened this morning in Pittsburgh.

The boilermakers, most of whom are employed at the super-dam site by the Foster-Wheeler Corp. of New York, have been on strike since their contract expired June 1.

Union employes, including electrical workers, pipefitters and other craftsmen on the power plant project, refused to cross boilermaker picket lines and thus halted construction.

Representatives of at least 15 employers were to begin negotiations with Local 154 today. The union, which claims a membership of 750, will meet tonight to discuss the results of this morning's session.

Notice Local 124
Members who paid dues for May direct to Local 124, will receive refund for same Tues. Aug. 18th, only 7:30 p. m. Room 4 IBOP Bldg. — Ad.

Served City 7 Years

Officer William W. Dunn Taken After Long Illness

Patrolman William W. Dunn, 446 1st Ave., a city policeman for seven years, died at his home this morning at 7:30 following a lengthy illness. He was 35.

He was admitted to City Hospital July 16 with a recurring heart condition that troubled him intermittently for several years. He was taken home Sunday.

Officer Dunn was born Nov. 4, 1923, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Dunn, with whom he resided. He was a member of the Grace United Presbyterian Church in East End, the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge, the Junior Chamber of Commerce and American Legion Post 374.

During World War II, he served in the Navy. He joined the police force in May 1952, filling the vacancy that was created when Americo J. Radeschi, now chief, was elevated from patrolman to lieutenant. Radeschi was moved up to replace John L. Russell, who was promoted from lieutenant to chief to succeed L. J. Wise.

Officer Dunn filled various assignments on the police department, including duty as a parking meter checker and beat patrolman. His latest duty was as overseer of the city's system of adult school crossing guards, which was reactivated for the 1958-59 school year.

Officer Dunn made the rounds of the schools where adult crossing guards were stationed to make certain the system was functioning smoothly and motorists and children were obeying the guards' signals.

He worked for a time as a member of the Special Service Bureau, but went back to uniform duty late in 1958 after the four-man investigative squad was cut back to one man. For a time he worked as police department photographer.

Besides his parents, he leaves his widow, Mrs. Betty Dunn; a son, Terry W. Dunn, and a daughter, Trudy Lynn Dunn, all at the home; two brothers, Robert Dunn and George Dunn, and a sister, Miss Ruth Dunn, all of East Liverpool.

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Martin Funeral Home by the Rev. Emanuel Emanuel of the Second United Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Calcutta United Presbyterian Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon and night.

Served City 7 Years

Officer William W. Dunn Taken After Long Illness

Patrolman William W. Dunn, 446 1st Ave., a city policeman for seven years, died at his home this morning at 7:30 following a lengthy illness. He was 35.

He was admitted to City Hospital July 16 with a recurring heart condition that troubled him intermittently for several years. He was taken home Sunday.

Officer Dunn was born Nov. 4, 1923, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Dunn, with whom he resided. He was a member of the Grace United Presbyterian Church in East End, the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge, the Junior Chamber of Commerce and American Legion Post 374.

During World War II, he served in the Navy. He joined the police force in May 1952, filling the vacancy that was created when Americo J. Radeschi, now chief, was elevated from patrolman to lieutenant. Radeschi was moved up to replace John L. Russell, who was promoted from lieutenant to chief to succeed L. J. Wise.

Officer Dunn filled various assignments on the police department, including duty as a parking meter checker and beat patrolman. His latest duty was as overseer of the city's system of adult school crossing guards, which was reactivated for the 1958-59 school year.

Officer Dunn made the rounds of the schools where adult crossing guards were stationed to make certain the system was functioning smoothly and motorists and children were obeying the guards' signals.

He worked for a time as a member of the Special Service Bureau, but went back to uniform duty late in 1958 after the four-man investigative squad was cut back to one man. For a time he worked as police department photographer.

Besides his parents, he leaves his widow, Mrs. Betty Dunn; a son, Terry W. Dunn, and a daughter, Trudy Lynn Dunn, all at the home; two brothers, Robert Dunn and George Dunn, and a sister, Miss Ruth Dunn, all of East Liverpool.

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Martin Funeral Home by the Rev. Emanuel Emanuel of the Second United Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Calcutta United Presbyterian Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon and night.

Hula Hoop Hazards

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — City police say hula hoops have created a new traffic hazard. "The kids used to have to stand still to make the hoops work," says Sgt. Sam Hill. "But now they're so good they can walk and hula at the same time. And a lot of them walk across busy streets whirling their hoops and not looking for automobiles.

The Wrong Missile

GRANITE, Okla. (AP) — While driving to nearby Hobart, the Rev. and Mrs. Walther Haefker saw a sign warning of a nearby missile range and adding: "Watch for flying objects." Just then a piece of gravel from the road flew up and made a hole in the windshield of their car.

No One Has Power To Say 'No'

Secretary of State Herter, who seems destined to spend his time abroad, is in Santiago meeting with another group of foreign ministers — the representatives of 20 Latin American nations comprising the Organization of American States:

The subject: Violence in the Caribbean and what can be done about it.

One of the few tangible proposals for doing something about it was taken out of the foreign aid authorization bill. It would have earmarked a certain fraction of U.S. aid for an inter-American police force to carry out the will of the Organization of American States.

This would have made OAS similar to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, insofar as possession of regional military resources was concerned. But it is unlikely that the United States or any other member of OAS would welcome the appearance of military force. The United Nations has a whole has no enforcement arm, nor does SEATO the counterpart of NATO in Southeastern Asia.

At one time, the United States considered itself to be a Caribbean enforcement agency, under its unilateral policy of intervention. Armed intervention in the Caribbean was commonplace in the first third of this century.

When intervention was abandoned in 1930, the vacuum thus created was supposed to be filled by good will flowing from the Good Neighbor Doctrine enunciated by Cordell Hull and backed up by President Franklin Roosevelt. This was an ironic twist, because President Franklin Roosevelt had been an ardent interventionist and was credited with developing the policy of keeping peace in the Caribbean under his personal interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine.

Whatever is said at Santiago — whatever good resolutions are proposed and adopted—nothing will be said or done to change the present rules of the game of Caribbean pressure politics. Intervention today has become a way of life, but it is catch-as-catch-can intervention.

If the interventionist gets caught, he is shot. If he doesn't get caught, he intends to shoot someone.

After nearly 30 years of nonintervention as far as the United States is concerned, there still is no sign that Good Neighborliness has filled the vacuum created when the U.S. Marines quit landing in Latin America.

It Doesn't Seem To Be The Idea

It goes without saying that the president of the United Steelworkers, David J. McDonald, must have given considerable thought to what he expects to say to members of his striking union on his swing around the country. He must keep their chins up as the strike drags on.

His remarks at Youngstown, where he revealed his theme, show he intends to hammer hard on the character of management. He harked back to the bitterness of 1937, when "little steel" was in the throes of organization. He held the current board chairman of U.S. Steel up to personal ridicule. And he alleged that the negotiating companies represented in the New York meetings have not been negotiating in good faith.

The theme is not novel, and it cannot be called surprising. But it can be called disheartening, with due respect to Mr. McDonald. It would be just as disheartening if the negotiating companies had rung all the changes on the theme of class warfare.

Management these days does a much better job of arguing the issues than it used to do. It no longer makes a practice of personal attacks on labor leaders, though some of the testimony before the Senate Rackets Committee suggests it may have been too lenient in this respect.

But for the record, management seems to be seeking objectively. It seems to have outgrown the idea that anything can be gained in a labor dispute by debasing and demeaning the people with whom it is going to do business eventually. That doesn't seem to be the idea any more.

Eventually, Steelworkers president McDonald is going to do business with the officers and the companies he is reviling. He is going to have to ask his followers to honor an agreement he will make in their name.

It could be wished that things had advanced far enough in the making of industrial contracts to get the class warfare theme out of the proceedings, whichever side brings it in. But as far as that's concerned, it could be wished that politicians running for nominations in primaries would quit downgrading the opponents they will be asking voters to believe in on election day, but they never learn.

Perhaps Mr. McDonald, like the politicos, merely tells his audiences what he feels sure they want to hear, hoping they will forget.

But if a minority with no votes to speak of, like a public utility, hires someone to make known its point of view that is "personal lobbying"—and therefore bad. The situation is similar in this respect to the difference between politics and statesmanship, politics being what the other fellow does and

In short, if all the people muttering about mirror, the muttering would stop.

'Borderline Crime'

When lobbying is called "borderline crime," as it usually is in connection with legislative sessions, this is why:

Lobbying, otherwise known as the "right of petition," never is troublesome unless the other side wins as the result of "undue pressure." This is borderline crime.

"Undue pressure" means enough pressure to win.

Of course if the day was not carried—if the other so-and-so's lost—there was no "undue pressure."

If your side lost, there was not even any lobbying—just a straightforward exercise of the "right of petition," meaning that certain citizens acting in behalf of other citizens went to their elected representatives and furnished them with information that had direct and heavy bearing on the issue before them.

What this amounts to is that even the borderlineness of lobbying is relative.

For example, if a minority with scads of votes at its fingertips, like the farmers, veterans, or labor unions, puts pressure on legislators that is a "pressure bloc," which is not particularly good but not particularly bad.

Juvenile Jury

It's good to learn that Columbiana County's juvenile jury system will begin functioning again next month.

It served a worthwhile purpose before and should be just as effective again, assuming that the participation is wholehearted—and there is every reason to believe that it will be in view of past performances.

The jury, as Judge Louis Tobin pointed out, serves these purposes in dealing with teen-age traffic violators:

To impress on the participants the consequences of seeming inconsequential acts which result in highway violations.

To serve as a practical study in governmental structure.

To show other youngsters in court "just how things look to friends of their own age."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Why any surprise that Ike showed up for work in one golf shoe and one regular shoe the other day? It shows his readiness for any situation.

These are times that try men's "soles" and the President can never be sure whether he is to be called on to get out of a trap or into a conference. He can even be required to clear a bunker and a world orisis simultaneously.

Don't change those shoes, Ike. They will keep Khrushchev guessing whether you are trying for a 300-yard drive or a 1,000-word rebuttal. That's been our handicap in meeting world problems: Our leaders have been wearing the same type shoe on both feet.

OF ALL THE CURIOUS MOVES in a curious age the one asking Ike to name a committee to study Benedict Arnold and see if his treachery in desertion to the British, attempt to hand over West Point and his subsequent burning of his boyhood neighborhood can't be excused as due to mental disturbance.

Petitioners suggest that psychiatrists look into the case. This is right up the psychiatric alley. We await a report that the arch traitor got that way through these facts:

1. His mother spoke to him harshly as a child and on several occasions refused to put strawberries on his colonial cream of wheat. To this can be traced his decision to go over to the enemy and surrender West Point.

2. His Dad at least twice said, "Now you go to bed without your supper," after the youthful Benedict thumbed his nose at the teacher and heaved a rock through the parish house. After this how could anybody expect he would hesitate to accept British command?

Ike Favors More Work, Less Leisure

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower, watching the Soviet rush to come abreast of the United States, feels this country needs some driving urge to think less of leisure and money and more of work and achievement.

So, before setting out for Moscow later this year to return Premier Nikita Khrushchev's mid-September visit here, Eisenhower's thinking is being influenced by the Soviet' efforts.

He is very conscious of those efforts. This may be why earlier this year, in his State of the Union message, he proposed creating a committee to suggest goals for America.

The President is now ready—although he hasn't said so publicly—to name this committee as soon as he can get private organizations to pay for its work. He doesn't want the government to foot the bill.

Eisenhower is known to think that national goals might give us an incentive toward which to work, just as the Soviet Union has had its five and seven-year plans.

He looks upon those Soviet plans, which keep the people hard at work, as the moral equivalent of war.

He thinks we need something in this country as an incentive to get our minds on accomplishment and not on a shorter work week and more leisure.

We must attach more importance, he thinks, to good, hard work and less to progress by demagoguery or trying to make a million.

On the short work week, he recalls wartime talks with a French professor who said the cause of France's defeat in 1940 came from trying to match a French four-day week against Hitler's seven-day week.

The President, remembering Edward Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire," thinks that is what is happening to us now, that we are too interested in leisure and pleasure.

That's a gloomy view for a president. It seems to be overlooking one thing: that Gibbon's criterion for judging civilization and progress was the measure in which men's happiness is secured, and of that happiness he considered political freedom an essential condition.

So, while the Soviets have made material strides, their lack of freedom is the opposite of Gibbon's conception of happiness, while to Gibbon the freedom enjoyed by Americans would be a mark of progress, civilization, and happiness.

But Eisenhower seems to have varying views on the Soviet Union at various times.

While at one time he considers the seven-year plan as the moral equivalent of war and is impressed by the work it gets done, at another time he notes that to increase production, the Communists must offer incentives, like extra pay.

There is, of course, an essential difference between Khrushchev's seven-year plan and any American goals thought up by a study committee.

One is mandatory in a soviet where the state has absolute control over the people and the means of production; the other would have to be voluntary in a free enterprise system.

Khrushchev, for instance, can order Soviet steel production capacity doubled and at the same time not only can find a ready market for every ounce of steel produced but decide where and for what it shall be used.

No matter what goals a president's committee proposes, the steel industry is free to increase its capacity only as there is a free and competitive market for its product.

Eisenhower never precisely explained in his State of the Union message just what goals he had in mind. Presumably, he would let his committee figure this out.

He said the committee would be concerned with living standards, health, education, greater assurance of life, liberty and opportunities, and methods to meet such goals, and what state, federal and local governments should be concerned.

Mr. K's Visit Ike's Idea

By Raymond Moley

In terms of the most realistic of political speculation, it is most fortunate for Vice President Nixon that the President has hastened to inform the country that the idea of a visit by Khrushchev to the United States originated with him and that Secretary Herter conveyed the invitation through Soviet channels before Nixon left for Moscow.

This makes it clear that the plan was not an informal suggestion by Nixon amid the exciting events of his Russian visit.

Nixon has never been a man to shirk a risk to his political fortunes if there was a hard job to do or if the President made the request.

His trip to Moscow was a great but calculated risk to his political future. He made meticulous plans and preparation for it but, as it seemed before he went, the chances that it would be a colossal flop were considerable.

There was skepticism at home and among our European allies. Prime Minister Macmillan had utterly failed to melt the Soviet ice. Nixon's political enemies in both parties were aware that failure would greatly help either in the nomination of some other Republican or the election of a Democrat in 1960.

THE INVITATION to Khrushchev was another and even greater risk. The greatest peril is that our hospitality for the visitor may be marred by demonstrations. Bitter enemies of the Soviet may break through our protocol with protests.

In short, Americans may lose the contest in good manners in which the Russian people set so high a mark in receiving the vice president. The paucity of concession in the larger issues between the two countries may plunge Americans into deeper pessimism about a respite in the cold war.

Things went all right when the two lesser Soviet lights were over here earlier in the year. But Mr. K. is the big boss. This is it! This is the man who is responsible for so many things that have deeply stirred the indignation of so many Americans. There have already appeared in the press suggestions of morbid demonstrations.

An important journalist, who is not friendly to Nixon as a possible Presidential candidate, told me since the invitation to Mr. K. was extended and accepted and announced that the "whole idea was Ike's" and was intended to deflate Nixon.

My reply was that I doubted any motive on the President's part except to further the cause of better relations but that if the motive he suggested were the correct one, the President and Secretary Herter would soon be tossing a pretty hot potato from one hand to another until the ordeal is over. Also, the success of the Khrushchev visit would be most important to us all.

AS MATTERS STAND, Nixon has returned with pretty general acclaim. His preparation and resourcefulness proved admirable for the mission. He had shown that the best course is to foster closer contacts and more understanding between the peoples of the two countries. That will stand in his favor, whatever may happen.

As a John the Baptist, he has spoken well. He has shown that he is not a reed bent by the wind, nor a man clad in soft garments. In pursuing the Biblical theme a bit further, it may be remarked that while martyrdom awaited those for whom John was the advance evangelist, John escaped that. True, he lost his head. But that was, according to the Gospels, because of a concatenation of events in which the capricious cavortings of Salome and Herod played a major part. Generally, the announcer suffers the least from the failure of a show.

With the Rockefeller storm troops poised for attack and the Democratic contenders stocking their arsenals, Nixon will have plenty to do at home now.

Benjamin Franklin, in 1762, invented the glass harmonica, an instrument containing a series of concentric glass bowls on a spindle which was turned with a treadle, much like a treadle sewing machine. Tones were produced by touching the edges of the bowls with wet fingertips. Many of these instruments were afterwards produced in Germany and composers of that era — Beethoven and Mozart, for instance — wrote especially for them.

Atom Era 20 Years Old

By Thomas R. Henry

Letter From Einstein Touched Off Work

Twenty years ago this month, President Franklin D. Roosevelt summoned his military secretary, Brig. Gen. Edwin M. "Pa" Watson and handed him a letter.

"Pa," he said, "this requires action."

Thus was the atomic age born, for the letter was the celebrated one Albert Einstein wrote to Roosevelt on Aug. 2, 1939, pointing out the potentials of atomic energy and the imminent danger that Hitler might realize them first.

"In the course of the last four months," it said, in part, "it has been made probable through the work of Joliot (Henri Joliot-Curie) in France, as well as Enrico Fermi and Leo Szilard in America that it may become possible to set up a nuclear chain reaction in a large mass of uranium by which vast amounts of power and large quantities of radium-like elements would be generated. Now it appears this could be achieved in the immediate future.

"This new phenomenon would also lead to the construction of bombs, and it is conceivable, though much less certain — that extremely powerful bombs of a new type may thus be constructed. A single bomb of this type . . . exploded in a port, might very well destroy the whole port, together with some of the surrounding territory. . ."

EINSTEIN WAS NOT the only scientist, nor the first, to realize the destructive possibilities of the atom. But, as he remarked many years later: "Yes, I'm the one who pushed the button."

The first consequences of that "button pushing" and the "action" it provoked astonished and frightened the world almost exactly six years later, on Aug. 6, 1945, with the dropping of the first atom bomb on Hiroshima.

They have been unfolding ever since, both good and evil. So far, the evil ones, including, as they do, the reduction of the entire world to a seemingly unceasing state of jitters, have far overshadowed the good ones.

HERE ARE SOME of the benefits we have already cashed in on:

The acceleration of the pace of pure science. "The bomb" itself increased scientific interest in nuclear physics. Isotopes produced by fission have already found application in practically every other field of science. Geologists use them to date rocks and fossils, astrophysicists to decide when the universe was born. Biologists study life processes with their aid. Chemists use tailor-made elements for experiments previously impossible.

Applied science and industry have begun to put the atom to work. Atomic power already turns wheels, drives ships and submarines, and lights lamps. The atom has applications in oil and mineral prospecting. A dozen industries use it in detection devices, control systems, and other ways.

Medicine uses some isotopes in diagnosis and research, others in experimental treatment of cancer.

These are only small beginnings. If we can restrain ourselves from instantaneous or slow self-destruction, these are some of the things scientists promise us for the future:

The conquest of space, perhaps even eventual colonization of the moon, Mars and Venus. Only the atom can provide the enormous energy needed to operate practical space ships.

Made - to - order weather. The possibility of modifying the polar ice caps, which control out climate, is under serious discussion.

Elimination of some diseases, particularly cancer.

A virtually unlimited source of power, which would lessen our dependence on rapidly dwindling natural fuels.

Making the deserts of the world bloom by converting sea water to fresh for irrigation.

Recovering from the sea its vast accumulation of metals and chemical salts.

The Next Voice You Hear

By Truman Twill

Reluctantly, I am ditching a theory I teasured for a long time about the evolution of a national tongue.

This was going to come about through the influence of radio's trained seals of elocution who performed on nationwide hookups. My theory dates back to the era when radio had the field of electronics communication to itself.

It actually goes back to something that occurred even before the first primitive radio hookups brought the possibility of a national tongue into range of realty. I once took a course in phonetics under an instructor who was studying variations in American speech.

Part of the study was recordings of the speech of pupils from various parts of the country as they showed up in his classroom. He could show in this way the influence of regional accents and inflections.

He had it all down on wax—the soft drawl of the southerners, the harsh drawl of the New Englanders, the nasal twang of the Midwest, the jargon of the Brooklynites etc. It was a revelation to discover what your speech sounded like when it was played back from a recording.

It seemed logical to suppose that all the variations some day would be blended into one common inflection as people mingled in classrooms and, later, as radio announcers on national hookups familiarized millions with standard pronunciations.

But the supposition was not logical.

The national tongue of America will continue to be whatever the inhabitants of this vast country think it is. Southerners will sound mush-mouthed. Middle Westerners will whine through their noses. Atlantic Coasters will sound as if their dentures were slipping.

There will be no uniformity—ever. The paragons of pronunciation who perform on nationwide electronic hookups have no impact on the speech of their listeners. This will continue to be as frustrating to speech idealists as it is to parents who teach their children how to use correct grammar, then learn that the kids always imitate the grammarless speech of the dumbest kids they go to school with, ignoring their home backgrounds and their teachers.

But if there home background is illiteracy, they will cling to that. The lowest common denominator of communication will dominate.

It is possible to teach anyone how to speak in another way, the same as it is possible to teach a dog to stand on its hind legs. But dogs do not stand on their hind legs naturally, and human beings do not change their natural way of speaking without some special reason.

An actor, of course, can imitate the speech of anyone he ever heard. He can drawl, whine, swallow his R's, or sing-song. But the ordinary run of people will stick to their native lingo, whatever it happens to be. There can be no progress toward a national tongue.

My theory wasn't worth a whoop. This country always will be hard put to understand what the folks on the other side of the ridge are talking about. We'll never sound like a nation of radio announcers, you-all. No siree! By crackee!

Big Ben In Disrepute

By Gloria Klein

LONDON — This year Britons are celebrating the 100th birthday of that symbol of security and strength — Big Ben—but there may be a peacetime repetition of what it took the German air fleet to do in war: Muffle the voice of the great clock.

Except for repairs, the only time Big Ben was silenced voluntarily was during World War I. German Zeppelin raids were feared in 1916 sufficiently to muffle all public clocks in London and so even Big Ben held his tongue each day from sunset to sunrise.

Today the huge timepiece is threatened with silence from midnight to 6 a.m., not because of any danger of enemy air attack but because some Londoners living near Westminster Hall say that its thunderous bell disturbs their slumber.

Particularly upset are the staffs of some hospitals located in that part of the British capital. They feel that, symbol or not, Big Ben does more harm than good by upsetting patients' sleep every 15 minutes — night after night.

The parliamentary undersecretary to the ministry of works, Harmar Nicholls, has told Parliament that for two years he occupied lodgings near the great British landmark and was not at all upset. "I can assure you I slept very well," he said.

But a Laborite member of the House of Commons has sided with those who would like the bell silenced, at least during the night. Frank Allaun, who may be a lighter sleeper than Undersecretary Nicholls, called the clock "this booming nuisance" and urged that it be stilled.

If it is, it will be the first time the 16-ton bell was silenced by reasons of insomnia — though it has been quieted several times for other, more dramatic, reasons.

For example, the big bell cracked in September, 1859, just a few weeks after being installed. It didn't toll properly again for three years.

It was stopped about a dozen other times because of mechanical failures, usually caused by a workman leaving a hammer or pot of paint where he shouldn't have.

No One Has Power To Say 'No'

Secretary of State Herter, who seems destined to spend his time abroad, is in Santiago meeting with another group of foreign ministers — the representatives of 20 Latin American nations comprising the Organization of American States:

The subject: Violence in the Caribbean and what can be done about it.

One of the few tangible proposals for doing something about it was taken out of the foreign aid authorization bill. It would have earmarked a certain fraction of U.S. aid for an inter-American police force to carry out the will of the Organization of American States.

This would have made OAS similar to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, insofar as possession of regional military resources was concerned. But it is unlikely that the United States or any other member of OAS would welcome the appearance of military force. The United Nations has a whole has no enforcement arm, nor does SEATO the counterpart of NATO in Southeastern Asia.

At one time, the United States considered itself to be a Caribbean enforcement agency, under its unilateral policy of intervention. Armed intervention in the Caribbean was commonplace in the first third of this century.

When intervention was abandoned in 1930, the vacuum thus created was supposed to be filled by good will flowing from the Good Neighbor Doctrine enunciated by Cordell Hull and backed up by President Franklin Roosevelt. This was an ironic twist, because President Franklin Roosevelt had been an ardent interventionist and was credited with developing the policy of keeping peace in the Caribbean under his personal interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine.

Whatever is said at Santiago — whatever good resolutions are proposed and adopted—nothing will be said or done to change the present rules of the game of Caribbean pressure politics. Intervention today has become a way of life, but it is catch-as-catch-can intervention.

If the interventionist gets caught, he is shot. If he doesn't get caught, he intends to shoot someone.

After nearly 30 years of nonintervention as far as the United States is concerned, there still is no sign that Good Neighborliness has filled the vacuum created when the U.S. Marines quit landing in Latin America.

It Doesn't Seem To Be The Idea

It goes without saying that the president of the United Steelworkers, David J. McDonald, must have given considerable thought to what he expects to say to members of his striking union on his swing around the country. He must keep their chins up as the strike drags on.

His remarks at Youngstown, where he revealed his theme, show he intends to hammer hard on the character of management. He harked back to the bitterness of 1937, when "little steel" was in the throes of organization. He held the current board chairman of U.S. Steel up to personal ridicule. And he alleged that the negotiating companies represented in the New York meetings have not been negotiating in good faith.

The theme is not novel, and it cannot be called surprising. But it can be called disheartening, with due respect to Mr. McDonald. It would be just as disheartening if the negotiating companies had rung all the changes on the theme of class warfare.

Management these days does a much better job of arguing the issues than it used to do. It no longer makes a practice of personal attacks on labor leaders, though some of the testimony before the Senate Rackets Committee suggests it may have been too lenient in this respect.

But for the record, management seems to be seeking objectively. It seems to have outgrown the idea that anything can be gained in a labor dispute by debasing and demeaning the people with whom it is going to do business eventually. That doesn't seem to be the idea any more.

Eventually, Steelworkers president McDonald is going to do business with the officers and the companies he is reviling. He is going to have to ask his followers to honor an agreement he will make in their name.

It could be wished that things had advanced far enough in the making of industrial contracts to get the class warfare theme out of the proceedings, whichever side brings it in. But as far as that's concerned, it could be wished that politicians running for nominations in primaries would quit downgrading the opponents they will be asking voters to believe in on election day, but they never learn.

Perhaps Mr. McDonald, like the politicos, merely tells his audiences what he feels sure they want to hear, hoping they will forget.

'Borderline Crime'

When lobbying is called "borderline crime," as it usually is in connection with legislative sessions, this is why:

Lobbying, otherwise known as the "right of petition," never is troublesome unless the other side wins as the result of "undue pressure." This is borderline crime.

"Undue pressure" means enough pressure to win.

Of course if the day was not carried—if the other so-and-so's lost—there was no "undue pressure."

If your side lost, there was not even any lobbying—just a straightforward exercise of the "right of petition," meaning that certain citizens acting in behalf of other citizens went to their elected representatives and furnished them with information that had direct and heavy bearing on the issue before them.

What this amounts to is that even the borderlineness of lobbying is relative.

For example, if a minority with scads of votes at its fingertips, like the farmers, veterans, or labor unions, puts pressure on legislators that is a "pressure bloc," which is not particularly good but not particularly bad.

But if a minority with no votes to speak of, like a public utility, hires someone to make known its point of view that is "personal lobbying"—and therefore bad. The situation is similar in this respect to the difference between politics and statesmanship, politics being what the other fellow does and

In short, if all the people muttering about mirror, the muttering would stop.

Juvenile Jury

It's good to learn that Columbiana County's juvenile jury system will begin functioning again next month.

It served a worthwhile purpose before and should be just as effective again, assuming that the participation is wholehearted—and there is every reason to believe that it will be in view of past performances.

The jury, as Judge Louis Tobin pointed out, serves these purposes in dealing with teen-age traffic violators:

To impress on the participants the consequences of seeming inconsequential acts which result in highway violations.

To serve as a practical study in governmental structure.

To show other youngsters in court "just how things look to friends of their own age."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Why any surprise that Ike showed up for work in one golf shoe and one regular shoe the other day? It shows his readiness for any situation.

These are times that try men's "soles" and the President can never be sure whether he is to be called on to get out of a trap or into a conference. He can even be required to clear a bunker and a world orisis simultaneously.

Don't change those shoes, Ike. They will keep Khrushchev guessing whether you are trying for a 300-yard drive or a 1,000-word rebuttal. That's been our handicap in meeting world problems: Our leaders have been wearing the same type shoe on both feet.

OF ALL THE CURIOUS MOVES in a curious age the one asking Ike to name a committee to study Benedict Arnold and see if his treachery in desertion to the British, attempt to hand over West Point and his subsequent burning of his boyhood neighborhood can't be excused as due to mental disturbance.

Petitioners suggest that psychiatrists look into the case. This is right up the psychiatric alley. We await a report that the arch traitor got that way through these facts:

1. His mother spoke to him harshly as a child and on several occasions refused to put strawberries on his colonial cream of wheat. To this can be traced his decision to go over to the enemy and surrender West Point.

He had shown that the best course is to foster closer contacts and more understanding between the peoples of the two countries. That will stand in his favor, whatever may happen.

As a John the Baptist, he has spoken well. He has shown that he is not a reed bent by the wind, nor a man clad in soft garments. In pursuing the Biblical theme a bit further, it may be remarked that while martyrdom awaited those for whom John was the advance evangelist, John escaped that. True, he lost his head. But that was, according to the Gospels, because of a concatenation of events in which the capricious cavortings of Salome and Herod played a major part. Generally, the announcer suffers the least from the failure of a show.

With the Rockefeller storm troops poised for attack and the Democratic contenders stocking their arsenals, Nixon will have plenty to do at home now.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Atty. Charles C. Connell of Lisbon was appointed a member of the County Health Board.

Wendall Halll, son of Mrs. Harlan E. Hall of Ohio Ave., East End, enrolled in the chemistry department of the University of Southern California.

Charles Emmerling was named president of the Sherwood-Westfield LaCroft Community League.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — City Council placed on second reading an ordinance authorizing Service Director James R. Hall to ask for bids for electricity for the municipal water works.

A crew of 40 men began work on general repairs to the traps and wickets at Dam 8.

Engine trouble forced down the plane of James Bell of St. George St. at the East Liverpool Country Club.

TEN YEARS AGO — Ida Morris was returned as head of the Rogers Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Unemployment figures showed a drop during July.

Odd Facts

Benjamin Franklin, in 1762, invented the glass harmonica, an instrument containing a series of concentric glass bowls on a spindle which was turned with a treadle, much like a treadle sewing machine. Tones were produced by touching the edges of the bowls with wet fingertips. Many of these instruments were afterwards produced in Germany and composers of that era — Beethoven and Mozart, for instance — wrote especially for them.

Atom Era 20 Years Old

By Thomas R. Henry

Letter From Einstein Touched Off Work

Twenty years ago this month, President Franklin D. Roosevelt summoned his military secretary, Brig. Gen. Edwin M. "Pa" Watson and handed him a letter.

"Pa," he said, "this requires action."

Thus was the atomic age born, for the letter was the celebrated one Albert Einstein wrote to Roosevelt on Aug. 2, 1939, pointing out the potentials of atomic energy and the imminent danger that Hitler might realize them first.

"In the course of the last four months," it said, in part, "it has been made probable through the work of Joliot (Henri Joliot-Curie) in France, as well as Enrico Fermi and Leo Szilard in America that it may become possible to set up a nuclear chain reaction in a large mass of uranium by which vast amounts of power and large quantities of radium-like elements would be generated. Now it appears this could be achieved in the immediate future.

"This new phenomenon would also lead to the construction of bombs, and it is conceivable, though much less certain — that extremely powerful bombs of a new type may thus be constructed. A single bomb of this type . . . exploded in a port, might very well destroy the whole port, together with some of the surrounding territory. . ."

EINSTEIN WAS NOT the only scientist, nor the first, to realize the destructive possibilities of the atom. But, as he remarked many years later: "Yes, I'm the one who pushed the button."

The first consequences of that "button pushing" and the "action" it provoked astonished and frightened the world almost exactly six years later, on Aug. 6, 1945, with the dropping of the first atom bomb on Hiroshima.

They have been unfolding ever since, both good and evil. So far, the evil ones, including, as they do, the reduction of the entire world to a seemingly unceasing state of jitters, have far overshadowed the good ones.

HERE ARE SOME of the benefits we have already cashed in on:

The acceleration of the pace of pure science. "The bomb" itself increased scientific interest in nuclear physics. Isotopes produced by fission have already found application in practically every other field of science. Geologists use them to date rocks and fossils, astrophysicists to decide when the universe was born. Biologists study life processes with their aid. Chemists use tailor-made elements for experiments previously impossible.

Applied science and industry have begun to put the atom to work. Atomic power already turns wheels, drives ships and submarines, and lights lamps. The atom has applications in oil and mineral prospecting. A dozen industries use it in detection devices, control systems, and other ways.

Medicine uses some isotopes in diagnosis and research, others in experimental treatment of cancer.

These are only small beginnings. If we can restrain ourselves from instantaneous or slow self-destruction, these are some of the things scientists promise us for the future:

The conquest of space, perhaps even eventual colonization of the moon, Mars and Venus. Only the atom can provide the enormous energy needed to operate practical space ships.

Made - to - order weather. The possibility of modifying the polar ice caps, which control out climate, is under serious discussion.

Elimination of some diseases, particularly cancer.

A virtually unlimited source of power, which would lessen our dependence on rapidly dwindling natural fuels.

Making the deserts of the world bloom by converting sea water to fresh for irrigation.

Recovering from the sea its vast accumulation of metals and chemical salts.

The Next Voice You Hear

By Truman Twill

Reluctantly, I am ditching a theory I teasured for a long time about the evolution of a national tongue.

This was going to come about through the influence of radio's trained seals of elocution who performed on nationwide hookups. My theory dates back to the era when radio had the field of electronics communication to itself.

It actually goes back to something that occurred even before the first primitive radio hookups brought the possibility of a national tongue into range of realty. I once took a course in phonetics under an instructor who was studying variations in American speech.

Part of the study was recordings of the speech of pupils from various parts of the country as they showed up in his classroom. He could show in this way the influence of regional accents and inflections.

He had it all down on wax—the soft drawl of the southerners, the harsh drawl of the New Englanders, the nasal twang of the Midwest, the jargon of the Brooklynites etc. It was a revelation to discover what your speech sounded like when it was played back from a recording.

It seemed logical to suppose that all the variations some day would be blended into one common inflection as people mingled in classrooms and, later, as radio announcers on national hookups familiarized millions with standard pronunciations.

But the supposition was not logical.

The national tongue of America will continue to be whatever the inhabitants of this vast country think it is. Southerners will sound mush-mouthed. Middle Westerners will whine through their noses. Atlantic Coasters will sound as if their dentures were slipping.

There will be no uniformity—ever. The paragons of pronunciation who perform on nationwide electronic hookups have no impact on the speech of their listeners. This will continue to be as frustrating to speech idealists as it is to parents who teach their children how to use correct grammar, then learn that the kids always imitate the grammarless speech of the dumbest kids they go to school with, ignoring their home backgrounds and their teachers.

But if there home background is illiteracy, they will cling to that. The lowest common denominator of communication will dominate.

It is possible to teach anyone how to speak in another way, the same as it is possible to teach a dog to stand on its hind legs. But dogs do not stand on their hind legs naturally, and human beings do not change their natural way of speaking without some special reason.

An actor, of course, can imitate the speech of anyone he ever heard. He can drawl, whine, swallow his R's, or sing-song. But the ordinary run of people will stick to their native lingo, whatever it happens to be. There can be no progress toward a national tongue.

My theory wasn't worth a whoop. This country always will be hard put to understand what the folks on the other side of the ridge are talking about. We'll never sound like a nation of radio announcers, you-all. No siree! By crackee!

Big Ben In Disrepute

By Gloria Klein

LONDON

This year Britons are celebrating the 100th birthday of that symbol of security and strength — Big Ben—but there may be a peacetime repetition of what it took the German air fleet to do in war: Muffle the voice of the great clock.

Except for repairs, the only time Big Ben was silenced voluntarily was during World War I. German Zeppelin raids were feared in 1916 sufficiently to muffle all public clocks in London and so even Big Ben held his tongue each day from sunset to sunrise.

Today the huge timepiece is threatened with silence from midnight to 6 a.m., not because of any danger of enemy air attack but because some Londoners living near Westminster Hall say that its thunderous bell disturbs their slumber.

Particularly upset are the staffs of some hospitals located in that part of the British capital. They feel that, symbol or not, Big Ben does more harm than good by upsetting patients' sleep every 15 minutes — night after night.

The parliamentary undersecretary to the ministry of works, Harmar Nicholls, has told Parliament that for two years he occupied lodgings near the great British landmark and was not at all upset. "I can assure you I slept very well," he said.

But a Laborite member of the House of Commons has sided with those who would like the bell silenced, at least during the night. Frank Allaun, who may be a lighter sleeper than Undersecretary Nicholls, called the clock "this booming nuisance" and urged that it be stilled.

If it is, it will be the first time the 16-ton bell was silenced by reasons of insomnia — though it has been quieted several times for other, more dramatic, reasons.

For example, the big bell cracked in September, 1859, just a few weeks after being installed. It didn't toll properly again for three years.

It was stopped about a dozen other times because of mechanical failures, usually caused by a workman leaving a hammer or pot of paint where he shouldn't have.

Ohio Trucker Charged After Chester Mishap

Harold Phillip Baker of Stone Creek, Ohio, posted a $15.50 bond today for a hearing Friday night before Acting Mayor Roy Cashdollar on a charge of hazardous driving after his tractor-trailer sideswiped the car of an East Liverpool motorist at 7 a. m. today in Chester.

Baker was cited by Police Chief Floyd Lyons after the truck hit a 1952 club coupe driven by Genevieve Cunningham, 112 E. 2nd St., at Carolina Ave. and 9th St., police said.

Deputies Arrest Youth After Hancock Mishap

A Pennsylvania teen-ager was cited by Hancock County sheriff's deputies in the aftermath of a three-car crash early Saturday morning east of Chester.

Eck J. Buratti Jr., 17, of Clinton was cited for failure to have his auto under control after it crashed into the rear of another driven by William J. Jordan, 41, of New Cumberland, R. D. 1, deputies said.

The impact of the crash forced Jordan's auto into the third car driven by Ida L. Guy, 40, of Wampum. There was moderate damage to all three cars, but no one was injured, according to the sheriff's office.

Burratti was scheduled for a hearing this week before Squire Eugene Allison of Chester.

FOR GOODNESS SNAKES. Mrs. Theda Sanford, formerly of East Liverpool, has lost a woman's normal fear of snakes now that she is employed at a reptile farm at Silver Springs, Fla. She is shown here with a Florida speciman as Ross Allen holds a big boa. She has been associated several years with Allen's Reptile Institute. Daughter of William Rough, 625 Monroe St., she went to Florida in the late 40's. She has a son and a daughter.

Halsey

"We had nothing but a shoestring. We were told to hold on, and we held on—from Guadalcanal to Tokyo," he said later.

"When I had the 3rd Fleet, I had a tremendous steamroller," Halsey said. "I could do anything I damned pleased. But in those early days, I was scared to death all the time. The Japs had everything. They could have wiped us out."

His daring made the shoestring fleet a telling weapon. His motto was simple—"Hit hard, hit fast and hit often."

Only a few months after taking command, he led his forces deep into the Pacific for a strike at the Marshall and Gilbert islands, the first big naval offensive of the war.

Finally his forces gained control of the Pacific and in 1945, during a 35-day period, his command destroyed or damaged 2,804 enemy planes, sank or damaged 148 Japanese combat ships and sank or damaged 1,598 merchant ships.

He leaves his widow, a son, William F. Halsey III, and a daughter, Mrs. Preston L. Spruance.

Crash Hurts Woman

SALEM — Mrs. Sue Tullis, 69, of Wellsville R. D. 1 suffered a possible fractured hip and lacerations of the scalp in a crash Sunday at 7:45 p. m. at the junction of Routes 62 and 14 in Canfield. She was admitted to Salem City Hospital. James C. Lewis, 67, of Wellsville R. D. 1, driver of the car in which she was riding, was cited by State Highway Patrolmen for failure to yield the right-of-way. His car was involved in a crash with the auto of Victor C. Harper of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Man Pays Fine Twice And City Has Problem

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — W. E. Roush paid a $10 parking ticket twice and now the problem is in the hands of the City Commission. Roush paid the fine once, lost the receipt, and paid it again.

By the time he found the first receipt the second payment was so far along in the city's bookkeeping system that it requires legal processes to get it back.

Figs With Haircuts

CHICAGO (AP) — Customers of Joe and Jerry Del Giudice get a fig with each haircut. The barbering brothers planted a fig tree in the basement of their shop. The tree grew so well a hole was cut in the floor of the shop. The tree's leaves now run to the roof of the one-story shop. The barbers' fig tree produces about two bushels of fruit a year. During the fig-bearing season, each customer gets a fig.

Triggers Trouble

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Two brothers-in-law were wounded in the same hand, by the same gun, on the same day. Dale Shipmen suffered a bullet wound in his left hand while cleaning a .25-caliber automatic pistol. Six hours later, George Heuthingon decided he would finish cleaning the gun. Another cartridge exploded, wounding Heuthingon's left hand.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Of the more than 100 known posed photographs of Abraham Lincoln, only one shows his wearing spectacles. Lincoln wore eye glasses Feb. 9, 1864, when he and his son Tad posed looking at a book in the White House. The photo was taken by Matthew Brady, famed Civil War photographer.

Communists Ride Castro Bandwagon

By JOHN V. HORNER
Washington War Writer

HAVANA

Most Cubans believe Premier Fidel Castro when he denies he is Communistic. Others are willing to give him the benefit of the doubt, at least for the time being.

But clearly the newly handpicked president of Cuba, Dr. Oswaldo Dorticos Torredo, went overboard in declaring there are no Communists at all in the government.

Virtually all impartial observers in Cuba agree none of the top echelon surrounding Dr. Castro as civilian advisers are Reds. But farther down the line and in the military there are known Communists.

Democratic-minded persons are genuinely disturbed by the question of whether the youthful premier understands how the Communist party operates.

The Communist party of Cuba (Partida Socialista Popular) was organized in 1924. It has gained strength steadily, even while operating underground during part of the Batista regime. Its membership is estimated now at 200,000.

SIGNIFICANTLY, the party leaders have been around a long time. The same group which ran the organization years ago is still in charge. These include Juan Marinello, president and Blas Roca, secretary-general.

There are Carlos Rodrigues, an intellectual; Lazero Pelana, a labor leader; Nicholas Guillen, the poet; Anibal Escalante, former editor of Hoy, the Communist newspaper in Havana and others.

On the 16th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution in 1933, the Cuban Reds called for the overthrow of Ramon Grau san Martin as president. This was achieved by Fulgencio Batista only a few months after the Grau administration took office.

In the early Batista days the Communists enjoyed the same kind treatment they get today. Their support was invited and accepted by the government and they helped keep Generalissimo Batista in office. They expanded and pressed for ever increasing power until the president finally broke with them and outlawed their party.

Castro repeatedly has said the Communists are welcome to operate, that they have a right to the same status as other political parties and a right to participate in his democratic movement. Some of his remarks compare strangely with a statement by President Batista in 1938, immediately after he held a secret meeting with Blas Roca.

BATISTA, on that occasion, said:

"The Communist party, according to its constitution, is a democratic party which pursues its ends within the framework of a capitalistic regime and renounces violence as a political means and, consequently, it is entitled to the same status as that of any other party in Cuba."

Under Batista, Juan Marinella became a Cabinet minister without portfolio. He was the first Communist in the history of Latin America to win appointment to a Cabinet.

There is little doubt the Communists today are wielding powerful influence in the fields of labor, education, the military, civilian government agencies and in some private institutions. They also have effective outlets in the press, radio and television.

They are playing their game as smartly here as anywhere in the world. They know the time is not ripe for the ultimate big push; they are biding their time.

The Communists cannot now grab the leadership in social revolution because this was pre-emptied by the Castro government. So what are they doing at the moment?

They are taking advantage of every opportunity to identify themselves with the government program. They pretend to be ardent nationalists. They are riding the Castro bandwagon for free—as hitchhikers.

When under attack from any quarter, they cry out that the "enemy" is firing on the bandwagon — that the attack is on the government.

THE REDS don't want a showdown yet. To make a major move at this time would solidify the other groups with the Castro organization.

So they are content with occasional challenges, obtaining small gains of immediate value.

Most Steel Users Are Well Stocked

(What has the steel strike done so far to the economy and when will it really hurt? In the following, first of a series of three articles, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, summarizes an Associated Press Survey of present conditions.)

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The government will step into the steel strike when it's a national emergency and not before. So says President Eisenhower. How long before the strike becomes a threat to the over-all economy?

A nation-wide survey by Associated Press reporters shows that—with few exceptions—users of steel are well stocked. Unemployment has hit transportation and mining industries closely tied to steel production.

But most steel users were able to lay in supplies from domestic or foreign mills. A few have been paying higher prices. A. O. Smith says it must close its pipe mill in Milwaukee now. Some other firms say they will run out of steel after Labor Day. More say they can hold out till October or later.

At Groton, Conn., the Electric Boat division of General Dynamics says it ordered steel so far in advance it can continue work on seven A-subs for at least a year. In New York, General Dynamics says its other divisions have enough steel for at least another 60 days.

"The steel situation is going to get critical—like a tornado," says Marlow C. Hodge, owner of Steel Metal Products Inc. of Los Angeles, and vice president of the Sheet Metal Contractors Assn. of Southern California. "We know the danger is there because we can see it, but when?"

The auto industry, which uses about a fifth of all steel output, reports large stocks on hand because the strike seemed so sure for so long. It has an upcoming breather while no steel is being used during the model changeovers. Also the Detroit Steel Corp. isn't struck. And Ford's own steel plant isn't affected.

Appliance makers say the pinch may come in another month—although some can go still longer. A few put Labor Day as the trouble date.

In Pittsburgh, Westinghouse says its supplies of various steel products will last from 60 to 90 days. In New York, General Electric says various divisions have varying amounts and there may be some trading between plants.

Able to hold out for two months or more are: Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator, Whirlpool in St. Paul, Paper Calmenson & Co. in Minneapolis, Western Air and Refrigeration in Los Angeles.

Helped by a two-weeks vacation just ended, International Harvester of Chicago says it expects to run at least till the end of September. Hotpoint in the same city has a six to eight week supply. Fairbanks Morse may have trouble after August.

The International Business Machine plant in Lexington, Ky., has a four months supply. The American Can plant in Arlington, Tex., sees little trouble for several weeks. But in Kansas City, Butler Manufacturing, which makes tanks and farm equipment, says some plants may close early in September, and Black, Sivals and Bryson, which makes oil field equipment, says it can run through Labor Day.

In New York, Continental Can says its over-all steel tonnage is high, but demand for various kinds of cans varies widely, and its Chicago plant expects to feel the effect in October.

Supplies for another month or more are reported in New York by Esso Standard Oil and Fairbanks-Whitney, in Philadelphia by Budd Co., in Beverly, Mass., by United Shoe Machinery, in New Haven, Conn., by Sargent & Co., makers of hardware and tools. Des Moines reports most Iowa steel users have 30 to 60 days stocks.

5 District Residents Treated After Accidents On Weekend

Five district residents were treated at City Hospital over the weekend for injuries suffered in accidents. Three were hurt in falls and two were cut on broken glass.

Terry Flowers, 9, son of Donald Flowers, 246 Virginia Ave., Chester, fell while playing at home and received a fractured left arm.

David Bradley, 5½, son of Warren Bradley of Sub-station Rd., fell at home and lacerated his right cheek.

William Joe Heaton, 3½, of Francis St., Pleasant Heights, fell from a window sill at home and received a small laceration of the chin.

Thomas Allen, 4, son of Daniel Allen of Campground Rd., Wellsville, fell on a glass jar and lacerated his left hand.

Joe Andrews of Park Blvd. stepped on glass and cut his foot.

Raymond Lough of MC 21, fell Saturday evening from the roof at his home and injured his left foot.

Duane Chambers of Georgetown R. D. 1 received a puncture wound of the right wrist while working in his barn Saturday night. Both men were treated and released.

Ronald Rayburn, 10, son of Charles Rayburn, 402 Jefferson St., Newell, fell Saturday from bars at a playground. He was admitted with a possible fractured left arm. He was discharged Sunday.

Judy Blackedge, 12, daughter of Lewis Blackedge of Riverside Ave., Wellsville, was treated Saturday after being bitten by a dog.

State Pays County For Prisoners' Costs

Ohio's bill of $9,841.69 owed Columbiana County for criminal court and prisoner transportation costs was being paid today by James A. Rhodes, state auditor.

The delinquent bills resulted from expenditures from the period of Jan. 1, 1943, to June 30, 1959. Statutes provide for the state to reimburse the counties for expenses incurred in prosecuting criminals and transporting convicts to various state penal institutons.

Salvation Army Waits Lt. Murtaugh's Address

Lt. Connie Murtaugh, an assistant at the Dayton Salvation Army Citadel and daughter of Maj. and Mrs. William Murtaugh of the local Corps, will speak at a special service Tuesday night at 7:45 at the local Citadel.

Lt. Murtaugh

Lt. Melvin Bridge of Beaver Falls also will participate in the service.

An open-air service will be conducted following the Citadel program at E. 2nd and Union Sts.

Lt. Murtaugh was graduated from Bellaire High School and attended Asbury College at Wilmore, Ky., and the Salvation Army Officers Training School in New York City.

She was commissioned in June 1958 and then served as an assistant the Middletown Citadel for a year before being transferred to Dayton in June.

School Executives Air Plans To Open Classes

LISBON — Columbiana County school executives and principals met Friday at the First Presbyterian Church to discuss the opening of county schools Aug. 31, according to James L. McBride, county superintendent.

A discussion on polio innoculations for all county school children was held along with plans to set up a principal's meeting for the last Wednesday of each month.

Mimeographed sheets for county school procedures were passed out. The superintendents and executive head will hold meetings during the year, but no dates were set, McBride said.

Border-Crossing Thief Causes Police Problem

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A $7 burglary at an industrial plant result in a jurisdictional problem for police.

Evidence indicated that the burglar entered through a door in the city of Madison and left by one in the adjoining town of Blooming Grove. The building straddled the city-town line.

Officers finally decided to make the investigation a joint venture.

2 Motorists Forfeit

LISBON — Two motorists forfeited bonds totaling $20 in Mayor John Todd's court Saturday and Sunday. Darrel R. Dillard, 18, of Lisbon R. D. 2 forfeited $10 for speeding and Glenn Pitts, 37, of Hanoverton R. D. 1 forfeited $10 for passing at an intersection. Both were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Freight Train Derailed

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—One car of an eastbound Baltimore & Ohio freight train jumped the track and 23 more cars overturned near here Sunday. The derailment tore up some 700 yards of track just east of Newton Falls. There were no injuries reported.

Ex-Area Minister Devises New Flag

The Rev. Charles F. Russell, pastor of the Hicksville Church of Christ and former pastor of the Wellsville church, has submitted to the President a drawing of a new proposed American flag of 50 states.

He received a personal letter from the assistant to the President, Wilton B. Persons, commending him for his interest in sending a design. "Careful consideration will be given at the appropriate time," Persons said in the letter.

The idea came to Rev. Russell while he was pastor at Wellsville. He said Mrs. Hilda Crawford, a member of the church, suggested that after the ratification of Hawaii as the 50th state of the Union last March, the new flag should "revert to the original 13 states in a complete circle, with the figure 50 in the center."

Rev. Russell then planned his drawing to submit to the White House. "One star for each State to form the numerals "50," surrounded completely by the original 13 stars depicting the Thirteen Colonies, on the background of blue. The number of red stripes swould be the same.

Rev. Russell began his pastorate at Hicksville last April 1. He served in the Army during World War II in the Western Pacific Theater as combat sergeant and also was in Hawaii.

'Segregated' Classes Used In Integration

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A brand new weapon was unlimbered in the Little Rock school battle today — segregated classes in an integrated school.

School officials re - scheduled classes for Ann McLeod, one of 700 white students at Hall High, so she won't have to sit with any of the three Negro girls who integrated Hall last week.

Ann's father, attorney John A. McLeod Jr., invoked a little-noted state law to get segregated classes for his daughter. School officials agreed the law, passed with a batch of other segregation measures in the 1958 special legislature, was valid. The law says no student can be forced to sit in the same classroom with a person of another race.

An attorney for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, Wiley Branton of Pine Bluff, said the NAACP would go to court to fight any attempt to segregate Negro students in class. He said the U.S. Supreme Court had ruled in an Oklahoma case that a Negro, once admitted to an integrated school, could not be segregated within the school.

School Board Secretary Ted L. Lamb said McLeod's request was the only one received so far. He said he hoped not many others would follow.

How Can I

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I effectively waterproof some matches to take with me on a camping trip?

A. Dip all of the matches into some melted paraffin. Merely dipping the match heads in does not provide full protection against moisture, as water can still soak the wood or paper stems and travel up to the heads.

Q. How can I avoid marring an unpainted woodwork surface with my hammer when pulling a nail from it?

A. Use a putty knife as a protective shield. Just insert the blade of the putty knife under the claw of your hammer, and roll the hammer back and forth on this as the nail comes out.

Q. How can I remove the burnt taste from scorched milk?

A. Put the pan into cold water and add a pinch of salt to the milk.

'Segregated' Classes Used In Integration

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A brand new weapon was unlimbered in the Little Rock school battle today — segregated classes in an integrated school.

School officials re - scheduled classes for Ann McLeod, one of 700 white students at Hall High, so she won't have to sit with any of the three Negro girls who integrated Hall last week.

Ann's father, attorney John A. McLeod Jr., invoked a little-noted state law to get segregated classes for his daughter. School officials agreed the law, passed with a batch of other segregation measures in the 1958 special legislature, was valid. The law says no student can be forced to sit in the same classroom with a person of another race.

An attorney for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, Wiley Branton of Pine Bluff, said the NAACP would go to court to fight any attempt to segregate Negro students in class. He said the U.S. Supreme Court had ruled in an Oklahoma case that a Negro, once admitted to an integrated school, could not be segregated within the school.

School Board Secretary Ted L. Lamb said McLeod's request was the only one received so far. He said he hoped not many others would follow.

How Can I

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I effectively waterproof some matches to take with me on a camping trip?

A. Dip all of the matches into some melted paraffin. Merely dipping the match heads in does not provide full protection against moisture, as water can still soak the wood or paper stems and travel up to the heads.

Q. How can I avoid marring an unpainted woodwork surface with my hammer when pulling a nail from it?

A. Use a putty knife as a protective shield. Just insert the blade of the putty knife under the claw of your hammer, and roll the hammer back and forth on this as the nail comes out.

Q. How can I remove the burnt taste from scorched milk?

A. Put the pan into cold water and add a pinch of salt to the milk.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: A psychology professor once told our class that people who are slaves to superstition are weak of mind and will. I consider myself neither, yet I admit that I'll go out of my way to avoid a black cat and frequently I've gotten out of a comfortable chair to knock on a piece of wood.

I'd like to find out if I'm really an oddball or maybe a little sick. Would you ask your readers to write in and confess their pet superstition? It would help if I felt that thousands of others are also slaves. Maybe they'd feel better, too, unloading it.

Since your mail comes from all over you'd probably have the first poll on the most popular supersitition in America.—M. I. NUTS?

Dear M.I.: U R NOT nuts. You're human. It's not true that a person who must knock on wood needn't reach any further than his head. Many highly intelligent people cling to superstitions.

Such behavior is the result of early training; it is emotional not rational. Once they pick up the half-baked notion that they can protect themselves from calamity by simply knocking on wood, they are compelled to do it or suffer discomfort.

I cordially invite readers to unload their superstitions on me. The results will be reported in this space.

No Guardian Angel

Dear Ann: I own an apartment building and most of my tenants are working girls. Before I rent I tell them I want only respectable people and won't stand for all-night parties or men coming and going at odd hours of the morning.

I never had any trouble until two months ago when a regular tenant took in a roommate. This roommate has had men callers who stayed until 2:30 a.m. When I decided to straighten her out she was extremely rude. Her defense was, "This is my home and no one is going to tell me how late to entertain guests."

I don't care how late these girls stay out but I don't want men in my building till all hours. Do I have the right to insist on morality on my property?—DES MOINES HOME OWNER.

Dear Des Moines: There's a hole in your logic large enough to accommodate a horse. You don't get morality by insisting on it. By the time the gals move into your building, their standards of morality are well established.

A landlady is not a licensed police matron in a house of correction. Your tenants are obliged to pay rent, keep your property in good condition and refrain from disturbing neighbors. Their personal life is their own.

Attractive Nuisance

Dear Ann: We have swings and a side in our back yard for our grandchildren when they visit. The neighbors on both sides have children between 5 and 11. They never ask if they can swing and slide, they just assume it's all right.

My husband and I don't wish to be mean but we can't watch these children to make sure they don't get hurt. They play rough and I'm afraid one day there'll be an accident. Could their parents sue us if something happened?—W.L.

Dear W. L.: I'm no attorney so don't accept this as legal gospel. However, we learned in a high school commercial law class that children's play equipment is considered an "attractive nuisance" and the owner may be responsible whether the kids were invited or not.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

$1,000 Fire Damages Midland Area Church

Damage was estimated today at $1,000 after fire Saturday morning damaged a new church at Midland View which is being constructed by the Midland Heights Community Church.

The estimate was made by John Dawson, chief of the Ohio Township volunteer fire department, who said the blaze in a corner of the vestibule burned through the floor and outside wall. Neither electricity nor the heating system have been installed in the new building. The chief declined to comment on the possibility of vandalism.

Part of the new flooring was stained Friday. The work was to have been finished Saturday. About 25 volunteers answered the alarm at 8 a. m. Midland Heights firemen also responeded.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Good Manners Mean Putting Others First

Good manners consist chiefly of holding oneself back from acting selfishly, from doing what one knows will hamper or annoy others and of making oneself do what will make another person feel more worthwhile and comfortable.

By Garry Meyers

It is keeping oneself from doing what one would like to do at the moment if its doing would interfere with the rights of another person. It's checking one's impulses, urges, appetite. It's also doing what one might rather not do, in consideration of other persons.

—:—

ANY YOUNG child who is nearly always allowed to have or do anything he wants has no foundation for learning good manners. In other words, excessive permissiveness renders the learning of good manners well-night impossible.

Always having been allowed to have and do what he wants, the tot beginning to play with another child tends to say and act "Me first."

He uses a plaything as long as he likes or takes one from another child if he is able. He doesn't easily learn to take turns with a plaything that is used in common or to share his things.

He wants to have the first ride on the wagon or swing and take the first trip down the slide. He wants to keep on riding the wagon or swing as long as he enjoys doing so and to keep on going down the slide, whether it's his turn or not.

If there is something he would like to eat he tries to eat as much of it as he wishes, even keeping another child from eating any of it. He takes the pieces of candy, fruit or cake that looks the best to him, the biggest piece if he can get it. Taking the piece nearest to him, or waiting until one or several others made a choice, requires waiting and holding back by him.

INDOORS THE child from three to six may chase another child, trying to catch him, and may run pell-mell, shouting and endangering himself and the furniture and disturbing other persons there.

We don't train the child in good manners just by telling him to be thoughtful of others and not to be selfish.

We train him at holding himself back in hundreds and hundreds of situations, at keeping himself from nearly always being first and at waiting for another to be first.

It's a long, long uphill pull for both him and us.

Before he can learn to hold himself back we must hold him back and set the stage so he will find other satisfying outlets and win approval as he does restrain himself. Then we celebrate successes in him.

Good example by parents is important, of course, but it is not enough. Instead, the parent who is always giving up to the child most unselfishly may have the most selfish, most ill - mannered child.

My bulletins, "The Very Selfish Child" and "Good Manners and Self-Control," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Cronin China Workers Given 7-Cent 'Package'

A 7-cent "package" settlement has ended a long strike of 90 employes of the Cronin China Co. at Minerva, according to Olin McGrew, chairman of Local 179, United Glass and Ceramic Workers.

Collections from Columbiana County in prepaid tax receipts are lagging far behind that of last year, according to State Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson.

A total of $24,963.30 was collected for the week which ended Aug. 1, compared with $36,344.62 for the same period last year.

$1,000 Fire Damages Midland Area Church

Damage was estimated today at $1,000 after fire Saturday morning damaged a new church at Midland View which is being constructed by the Midland Heights Community Church.

The estimate was made by John Dawson, chief of the Ohio Township volunteer fire department, who said the blaze in a corner of the vestibule burned through the floor and outside wall. Neither electricity nor the heating system have been installed in the new building. The chief declined to comment on the possibility of vandalism.

Part of the new flooring was stained Friday. The work was to have been finished Saturday. About 25 volunteers answered the alarm at 8 a. m. Midland Heights firemen also responeded.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Good Manners Mean Putting Others First

Good manners consist chiefly of holding oneself back from acting selfishly, from doing what one knows will hamper or annoy others and of making oneself do what will make another person feel more worthwhile and comfortable.

By Garry Meyers

It is keeping oneself from doing what one would like to do at the moment if its doing would interfere with the rights of another person. It's checking one's impulses, urges, appetite. It's also doing what one might rather not do, in consideration of other persons.

—:—

ANY YOUNG child who is nearly always allowed to have or do anything he wants has no foundation for learning good manners. In other words, excessive permissiveness renders the learning of good manners well-night impossible.

Always having been allowed to have and do what he wants, the tot beginning to play with another child tends to say and act "Me first."

He uses a plaything as long as he likes or takes one from another child if he is able. He doesn't easily learn to take turns with a plaything that is used in common or to share his things.

He wants to have the first ride on the wagon or swing and take the first trip down the slide. He wants to keep on riding the wagon or swing as long as he enjoys doing so and to keep on going down the slide, whether it's his turn or not.

If there is something he would like to eat he tries to eat as much of it as he wishes, even keeping another child from eating any of it. He takes the pieces of candy, fruit or cake that looks the best to him, the biggest piece if he can get it. Taking the piece nearest to him, or waiting until one or several others made a choice, requires waiting and holding back by him.

INDOORS THE child from three to six may chase another child, trying to catch him, and may run pell-mell, shouting and endangering himself and the furniture and disturbing other persons there.

We don't train the child in good manners just by telling him to be thoughtful of others and not to be selfish.

We train him at holding himself back in hundreds and hundreds of situations, at keeping himself from nearly always being first and at waiting for another to be first.

It's a long, long uphill pull for both him and us.

Before he can learn to hold himself back we must hold him back and set the stage so he will find other satisfying outlets and win approval as he does restrain himself. Then we celebrate successes in him.

Good example by parents is important, of course, but it is not enough. Instead, the parent who is always giving up to the child most unselfishly may have the most selfish, most ill - mannered child.

My bulletins, "The Very Selfish Child" and "Good Manners and Self-Control," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Driver Is Hunted In Fatal Crackup

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A hunt for an unidentified driver of a yellow car was intensified Sunday with the death of a trucker whose tractor-trailer the car is believed to have forced off a road near here last Thursday.

Frank B. Young, 49, of Dayton, died in a hospital here after suffering extensive burns and other injuries in the crash on Ohio 49 north of Phillipsburg. His tractor ignited and he was afire until a bystander tore his clothes off and wrapped him in a blanket.

County detectives said they had a witness who corroborated word from Young while semiconscious in the hospital that the yellow car caused the accident.

Festival Of St. Rocco Slated To Open Tonight

The annual St. Rocco Festival, sponsored by the Wellsville Knights of Columbus, will open tonight at 7:30 at Central Park.

A Solemn High Mass was held Sunday morning at 11 at Immaculate Conception Catholic Church to mark the beginning of the event. Fr. John Lyons was celebrant. His sermon was on the life of St. Rocco, patron saint of the Italian people.

Seven carnival rides and 15 concession stands have been set up at the park. The P. & J. Amusement Co. of Massilon is providing the rides.

The aerial bombs will be fired nightly to mark the opening of the festival, according to Fred Baldasare, chairman. A large fireworks display is scheduled Saturday night.

Merinos is the most common breed of sheep.

Cronin China Workers Given 7-Cent 'Package'

A 7-cent "package" settlement has ended a long strike of 90 employes of the Cronin China Co. at Minerva, according to Olin McGrew, chairman of Local 179, United Glass and Ceramic Workers.

McGrew announced settlement of the strike Sunday night. He said the agreement that ended the walkout was reached Saturday night at Columbus. He did not list the breakdown of the 7-cent "package." The strike began June 2 when the local's contract with the company expired.

In East Sparta, spokesmen for Local 45 of the same union said they have reached no agreement with the U. S. Ceramic Tile Co. The strike there also involves a U. S. Ceramic Tile Co. plant in Parkersburg.

Auto Sales Exemption Seen Factor In Tax Dip

Collections from Columbiana County in prepaid tax receipts are lagging far behind that of last year, according to State Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson.

The treasurer said that part of the drop can be attributed to the elimination of prepaid tax receipts on auto sales.

A total of $24,963.30 was collected for the week which ended Aug. 1, compared with $36,344.62 for the same period last year.

Wood-Paneled Room Holds Appeal

By ANDREW C. LANG
AP Newsfeatures

A wood-paneled room is one of the surest means of stepping up the eye-appeal and quality of a home interior. It is a home improvement project that can safely be undertaken by the do-it-yourselfer.

In general, there are four paneling styles to choose from: (1) vertically or horizontally - applied boards; (2) raised paneling, in which the wood is shaped in panels and set in distinctive framing; (3) flat paneling which employs the same framing except that the panels themselves have plain flat surfaces, and (4) plywood, which is available in many different sizes, although 4-by-8 feet is the most commonly used.

SOME plywood paneling comes with vertical or horizontal grooves to give the impression of individual boards. Regular wood paneling comes in lengths of from three to 16 feet.

If your plans call for longer lengths than the available boards, you can either butt short pieces together (using a loose spline to line them up) or "drop" the ceiling a foot or so by letting the wall area above the paneling serve as part of the ceiling. In this case, you can paint the upper exposed portion of wall to match the ceiling.

Actual installation will differ according to the style of paneling you choose.

Some paneling can be fastened directly to the walls. Others require a preliminary placement of furring strips, either vertical or horizontal, nailed into underlying studs to give a fastening surface for the paneling boards or sheets.

Where furring strips are used, you can make certain that the walls are truly vertical by using a plumb bob on a string to check allignment. If necessary, you can add thin pieces of wood (shims) behind the furring to get the alignment exactly as desired.

THE FASTENING of the panels to the wall or furring strips again will vary according to the paneling style. Where board paneling is used, nailing is the simplest method. Nail through the tongued edge or, if through the face, countersink the nail heads and fill with matching wood putty.

Some manufacturers provide contact cement to permit installation without nailing. Others fabricate the panels to permit fastening with special clips. Use a level to assure that the edges are perpendicular to ceiling and floor. Start in the corner farthest from the door.

Awkward areas above windows and doors should be left until last.

For each such area, cut out a "keystone" panel to fit into place. This panel should be about an inch larger than the area to be covered by it. Cut a groove at least one inch wide along one edge of the keystone and slide the grooved side into the adjacent panel.

Both the top and bottom of the finished wall can be effectively trimmed with either strips cut from the paneling or from special molding.

Further decoration can be built into the room by applying to the inside and outside corners special moldings which match the wood grain of the paneling.

Steel's Users Are Seen Set Until October

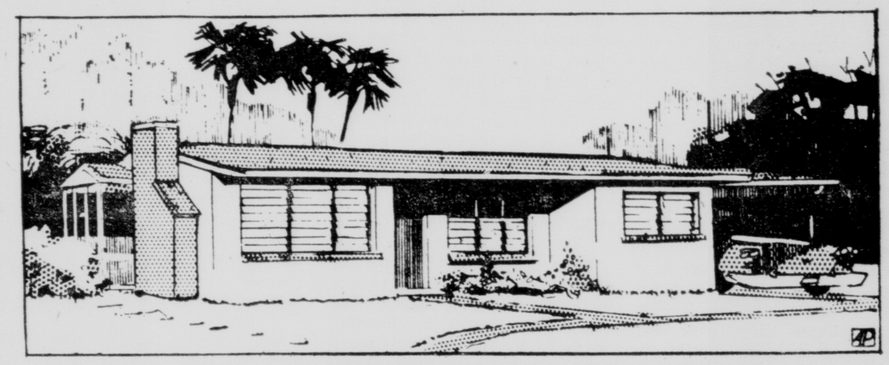

CLEVELAND (AP)—Most steel users can maintain normal operations until early October, the magazine Steel said today.

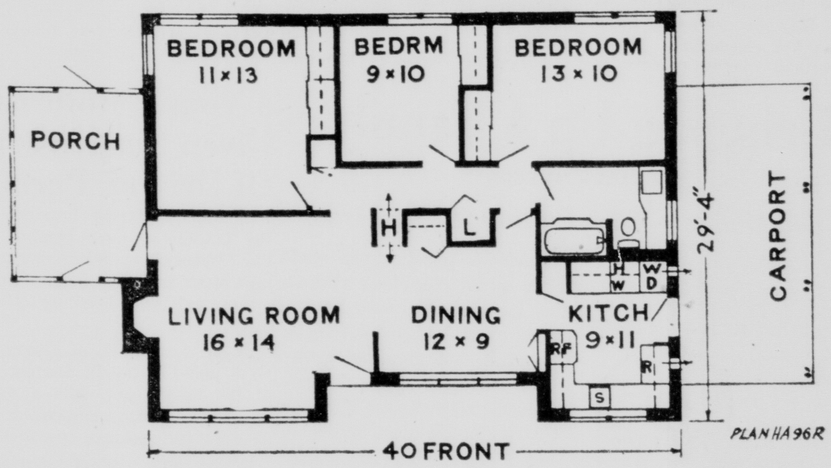

In the seven weeks intervening, steel inventories will drop about 7 million tons to approximately 14 million tons, the publication estimated. When that figure is reached, normal operations will be interrupted and the curtailments will begin, said Steel.

When the steel strike started in mid-July, steel stocks were at a record high of 26 million tons, the magazine reported. In five weeks they have dropped to 21 million.

Steel consumption is running approximately 1½ million tons a week, but users are making up about a half million tons a week. Steel said they are getting 250,000 tons from mills still operating, 150,000 from service centers and 100,000 from imports.

Last week steelmaking operations were at 12 per cent of rated capacity, up fractionally from the preceding week.

Masked Men Get $12,000

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Three men wearing rubber face masks robbed the Community Traction Co. Sunday night and escaped with an estimated $12,000.

The robbers beat Arthur Biggins, a dispatcher, and tied up three other employes. Biggins was treated in Toledo Hospital for head bruises.

He told police three men came in about 10 p. m. He said they forced him to unlock the cage door and one of them hit him.

Two women and another male employe returned from a lunch period during the robbery. One robber, armed with a sawed-off shotgun, forced the trio into a back office, where they were tied up.

The gunmen rifled two cash drawers and a cabinet, stuffing the money into paper sacks. It took two trips to carry the loot outside.

The loss estimate was made by Biggins.

But the dog didn't let out a woof when a deputy crept up and caught the men rifling a phone booth, O'Brien said.

Crash Kills Girl Before Wedding

SOUTH GATE, Calif. (AP) — Last year an auto accident wrecked the wedding plans of Geraldine Neff — just one night before the marriage was to take place.

Geraldine was to marry John Fulton of nearby Compton on June 29, 1958. The night before the wedding Fulton was involved in an accident en route to a bachelor party. He was left permanently paralyzed. About three months ago he broke off the engagement.

Two months later, the 19-year-old South Gate girl became engaged to Cecil Roberts of Chino, Calif.

Last Friday night, driving alone near Las Vegas, Nev., Miss Neff made a U-turn and crashed into another car.

She was to have married Roberts Saturday. But she died in the crash.

A wood-paneled room is one of the surest means of stepping up the eye-appeal and quality of a home interior. It is a home improvement project that can safely be undertaken by the do-it-yourselfer.

In general, there are four paneling styles to choose from: (1) vertically or horizontally - applied boards; (2) raised paneling, in which the wood is shaped in panels and set in distinctive framing; (3) flat paneling which employs the same framing except that the panels themselves have plain flat surfaces, and (4) plywood, which is available in many different sizes, although 4-by-8 feet is the most commonly used.

SOME plywood paneling comes with vertical or horizontal grooves to give the impression of individual boards. Regular wood paneling comes in lengths of from three to 16 feet.

If your plans call for longer lengths than the available boards, you can either butt short pieces together (using a loose spline to line them up) or "drop" the ceiling a foot or so by letting the wall area above the paneling serve as part of the ceiling. In this case, you can paint the upper exposed portion of wall to match the ceiling.

Actual installation will differ according to the style of paneling you choose.

Some paneling can be fastened directly to the walls. Others require a preliminary placement of furring strips, either vertical or horizontal, nailed into underlying studs to give a fastening surface for the paneling boards or sheets.

Where furring strips are used, you can make certain that the walls are truly vertical by using a plumb bob on a string to check allignment. If necessary, you can add thin pieces of wood (shims) behind the furring to get the alignment exactly as desired.

THE FASTENING of the panels to the wall or furring strips again will vary according to the paneling style. Where board paneling is used, nailing is the simplest method. Nail through the tongued edge or, if through the face, countersink the nail heads and fill with matching wood putty.

Some manufacturers provide contact cement to permit installation without nailing. Others fabricate the panels to permit fastening with special clips. Use a level to assure that the edges are perpendicular to ceiling and floor. Start in the corner farthest from the door.

Awkward areas above windows and doors should be left until last.

For each such area, cut out a "keystone" panel to fit into place. This panel should be about an inch larger than the area to be covered by it. Cut a groove at least one inch wide along one edge of the keystone and slide the grooved side into the adjacent panel.

Both the top and bottom of the finished wall can be effectively trimmed with either strips cut from the paneling or from special molding.

Further decoration can be built into the room by applying to the inside and outside corners special moldings which match the wood grain of the paneling.

Steel's Users Are Seen Set Until October

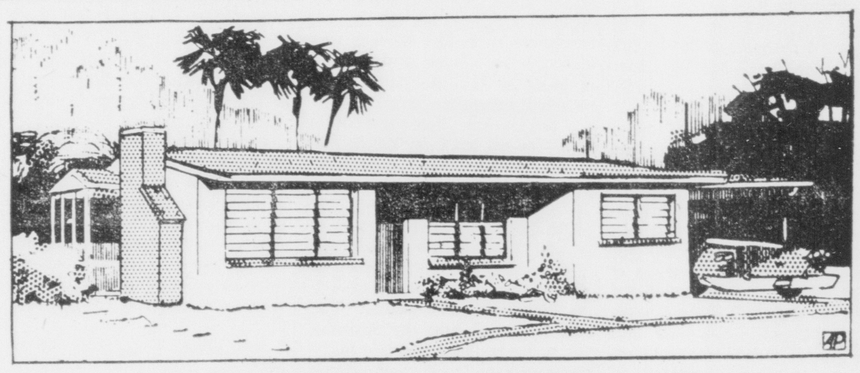

CLEVELAND (AP)—Most steel users can maintain normal operations until early October, the magazine Steel said today.

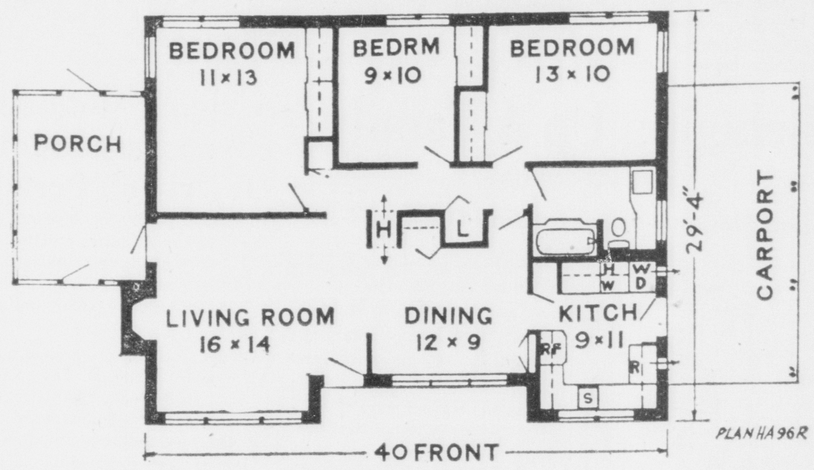

In the seven weeks intervening, steel inventories will drop about 7 million tons to approximately 14 million tons, the publication estimated. When that figure is reached, normal operations will be interrupted and the curtailments will begin, said Steel.

When the steel strike started in mid-July, steel stocks were at a record high of 26 million tons, the magazine reported. In five weeks they have dropped to 21 million.

Steel consumption is running approximately 1½ million tons a week, but users are making up about a half million tons a week. Steel said they are getting 250,000 tons from mills still operating, 150,000 from service centers and 100,000 from imports.

Last week steelmaking operations were at 12 per cent of rated capacity, up fractionally from the preceding week.

Masked Men Get $12,000

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Three men wearing rubber face masks robbed the Community Traction Co. Sunday night and escaped with an estimated $12,000.

The robbers beat Arthur Biggins, a dispatcher, and tied up three other employes. Biggins was treated in Toledo Hospital for head bruises.

He told police three men came in about 10 p. m. He said they forced him to unlock the cage door and one of them hit him.

Two women and another male employe returned from a lunch period during the robbery. One robber, armed with a sawed-off shotgun, forced the trio into a back office, where they were tied up.

The gunmen rifled two cash drawers and a cabinet, stuffing the money into paper sacks. It took two trips to carry the loot outside.

The loss estimate was made by Biggins.

Two Men Are Arrested As Dog Fails To Bark

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two men and their not-so-faithful dog are in the lockup today, charged with robbing telephone coin boxes.

Detective Mike O'Brien said the German shepherd stood watch for Lynn Waldon Swink, 21, and Robert Richard Banks, 22.

But the dog didn't let out a woof when a deputy crept up and caught the men rifling a phone booth, O'Brien said.

Crash Kills Girl Before Wedding

SOUTH GATE, Calif. (AP) — Last year an auto accident wrecked the wedding plans of Geraldine Neff — just one night before the marriage was to take place.

Geraldine was to marry John Fulton of nearby Compton on June 29, 1958. The night before the wedding Fulton was involved in an accident en route to a bachelor party. He was left permanently paralyzed. About three months ago he broke off the engagement.

Two months later, the 19-year-old South Gate girl became engaged to Cecil Roberts of Chino, Calif.

Last Friday night, driving alone near Las Vegas, Nev., Miss Neff made a U-turn and crashed into another car.

She was to have married Roberts Saturday. But she died in the crash.

Cleaning? Play It Cool!

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

A cool summer morning is a wonderful time to clean house. You can do many tasks that are real chores in the damp spring or cold winter.

It's the ideal time to clean upholstery, rugs, slipcovers, because you can do it outside for easier drying or indoors, drying it more quickly than in other seasons. It's a good time to wash blankets and bedspreads, too.

CLEAN upholstered furniture by vacuuming it thoroughly, then apply your favorite cleansing agent. Washable fabrics may require nothing more than a light soap sudsing.

More thorough cleaning may need more drastic action, such as the old fashioned dry cleaning fluids that work better than a lot of the cleaners highly touted for that purpose.

Move smaller pieces such as chairs and ottomans to a screened porch or other airy shady spot. Open windows and air the larger pieces thoroughly after you have cleaned them. Avoid inhaling cleaning fluids, especially those containing carbon tetrachlorde.

Rugs are easily cleaned on warm dry mornings also, because those that are too big to be taken up can be shampooed right on the floor and dried while you take the youngsters shopping or go to the beach.

If your rug shampooer is a vacuum cleaner attachment, use an extension cord to shampoo it outdoors or plug it in to the porch light or other nearby outlet.

BE PATIENT in cleaning a large rug, and you'll get professional results. Do a small area at a time. Don't get it too wet, and follow directions on your shampooer. Be sure to vacuum the rug thoroughly before washing it.

I had a particularly fine experience cleaning a white cotton rug recently. It had a number of fruit stains on it, and a good deal of dirt where it had taken heavy traffic.

The results were very pleasing as the rug emerged bright white from its shampoo. I cleaned it on an outdoor deck and let it dry in the sunshine.

Summer is a good time to do outside windows, also. Use a long-handled sponge mop on windows you can reach. Use the hose on windows that cannot be cleaned from indoors.

Another reason summer household tasks seem lighter is because you can work in your shorts and flat shoes, always a relief to women who enjoy comfort when they must work indoors.

Ticket Battle Appears Over

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler today was expected to announce an end to the ticket argument that threatened to cost Los Angeles the party's 1960 convention.

Republican Mayor Norris Poulson, denying a Chicago newspaper report that Los Angeles had withdrawn its offer to hold the convention, said: "I'm positive it will be held here."

Conspicuously absent from a conference scheduled late this afternoon will be wealthy oilman Edwin O. Pauley, credited by many with raising most of the $350,000 necessary to underwrite convention costs.

Pauley returned to his home in the Hawaiian Islands Friday after an inconclusive meeting with Butler and the host committee.

The Chicago Tribune said Los Angeles has withdrawn its $350,000 offer to be host for the party's 1960 convention, according to a member of the city's convention committee. It said official announcement was delayed until today to give Butler an opportunity to organize a new Los Angeles sponsoring committee, or to reorganize the old one.

The paper said other sources a new financial "angel" to replace Pauley. It added if Butler is unable to arrange Los Angeles financing, Chicago will automatically be back in the running as host convention city.

Pauley insisted he was given a guarantee of 5,000 convention tickets in exchange for his fund-raising efforts. That would be ten times more than any host city has ever received.

Butler says there was no guarantee.

"The host city can have 1,500 tickets and I don't mean 1,501," he said.

When it looked as if an impasse had been reached, Poulson suggested a compromise. Would Pauley accept 3,133 tickets? Pauley, an old friend of former President Harry S. Truman and no admirer of Butler, said he would.

Butler stood by his guns. He telephoned County Supervisor Kenneth Hahn last Wednesday and said he would begin shopping for a new convention site if Los Angeles did not agree to accept 1,500 tickets.

Ike Visits Links Early With Grandson David

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower, with his 11-year-old grandson as his partner, got in some early morning golf today in advance of a visit to his Hotel Gettysburg office.

The President and David showed up at the Gettysburg Country club at 7:40 a.m., earlier than his usual time.

The hour apparently was too early for Eisenhower's house guests and frequent golfing companions, Clifford Roberts, Walton Jones and William E. Robinson.

Symington, Kennedy Lead In Poll Held By Sen. Young

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Stuart Symington (Mo) and John F. Kennedy (Mass) were the choice of Ohio Democrats for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination in a poll by Sen. Stephen M. Young (D-Ohio).

Symington and Kennedy tied for first place with 115 votes each in replies submitted to a questionnaire Young's office sent to more than 1,200 Ohio Democrats.

Adlai Stevenson, twice-defeated Democratic candidate, rated third with 65 votes and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) came next with 36 first choice votes.

Other choices: Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, 12 first place votes; Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), 9, and Gov. Pat Brown of California and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, 3 each.

Young said he was "surprised and delighted" that a number of persons selected him to go to the Democratic convention as Ohio's favorite son. But, he added, he will not consider becoming such a candidate and may not even seek to become a delegate to the convention.

In the favorite son poll, Young rated second to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle who received 152 votes. Young was given 48 first choice votes. Third place went to Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) who had 39.

The Ohioans preferred, by 210-143, that top contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination enter the Ohio presidential preference primary.

They voted 254-88 in favor of Ohio's delegation going to the Democratic national convention uninstructed other than to support a favorite son on early ballots.

Economic policy — including debt, inflation, budget and taxes— was chosen as the most important issue in the 1960 elections.

A 206-153 vote was recorded against raising the highway gasoline tax by 1½ cents per gallon to keep the road building program on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Increased spending for space exploration and development of space platforms was approved 165-148. More extensive distribution of farm surplus products to poor people and to the "have-not" nations was approved 350-9.

'Won't Be Pushed Around' French Premier Declares

L'ILE BOUCHARD, France (AP)—Premier Michel Debre says France won't be pushed around by her allies any more and will demand they back up her war in Algeria all the way.

His speech sounded like a public preview of what President Charles de Gaulle will tell President Eisenhower when the two confer in private next month.

Debre spoke to his constituents Sunday in this Loire Valley village in west central France.

The premier, a faithful supporter of De Gaulle's goal of restoring the authority of France on the international scene, insisted this does not mean France is doomed to stand alone within the Western alliance.

He said De Gaulle's policy "is a reaction against the alliances which, through our weakness, led to our subjection to foreign powers which did not hesitate to oppose our essential interests."

Commenting that Algeria had been "created by us, that is to say by Frenchmen from our soil," the premier said "the destiny of France is linked with the Algerian destiny — everything changes for us according to whether we hold or do not hold on to this old territory."

"It is for renovated France to make her allies understand that she has the right to demand all their most complete support for a cause which goes far beyond a people and a generation."

The United States in recent years has refused to give France the full backing she wants for her Algerian policy. The Americans have tried to take a middle road, hoping they won't offend the French too much and at the same time trying not to anger the Asian and African nations who support the Algerian rebels.

De Gaulle also wants a voice equal to those of the United States and Britain in the decisions of the Atlantic Alliance — although France has pulled most of her troops out of Europe to fight in Algeria.

"To avoid being crushed by agreements between very great powers, a nation like France must be in a position to make itself heard and understood," he said.

The Eisenhower-Kurhshchev exchange is the obstensible reason for the American president's visit to Paris next month. He also will go to London and Bonn to discuss Allied policy.

Driver's Power-less When Line Falls Down

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Jack Anderson, 27, was ready to pull out of a driveway with a truckload of furniture when a 2,300-volt power line broke and fell across the truck cab.

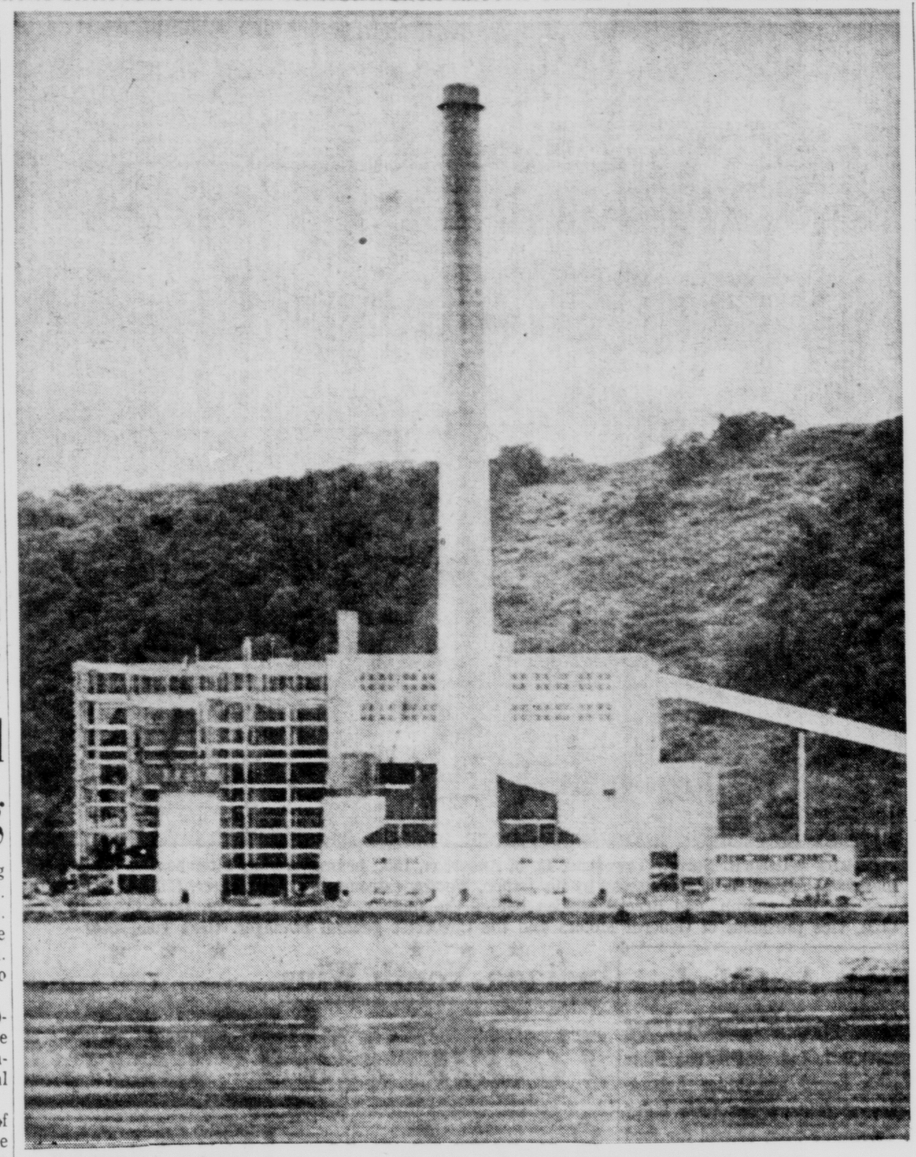

Knowing the truck's rubber tires insulated him against shock, Anderson sat still. He chain-smoked cigarets until a power company crew arrived 30 minutes later.

The crew found the line carried no electricity.

Church Puts New Light On Integration Issue

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A man often accused of fomenting violence in Little Rock's 1957 integration crisis has joined a church and says the racial issue is now unimportant.

James T. Karam, 51, a clothier, said he joined the Baptist church. "To know Christ is so much more important than segregation or integration," Kram said of his new way of life.

HALTED BY STRIKE. Construction at the Ohio Edison Co.'s new power plant at Stratton has been halted by a boilermakers' strike, but tests of the facility, the largest in the system, are continuing. This view from Route 66 in Hancock County shows the framework for the remainder of the generating plant and the start of a second smokestack which will join its "twin" 500-foot stack when completed. The last of four 170,000-kilowatt generators is scheduled to be completed in 1962. The estimated cost is $118 million

Man, 98, And Wife, 96, Fly To See Daughter

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — What made Pasquale Trimboli make his first trip away from New York in half a century by airplane?

"Because I'm a crazy man — crazy," said the 98-year-old retired home builder with a grin as he embraced his surprised daughter Sunday at the Norfolk airport.

Trimboli and his wife, 96, made the plane trip to see their daughter and three grandchildren. They will spend a week in Portsmouth, then return to their Cedarhurst, L. I., home by plane.

After that? "Certainly more travel," said Trimboli.

Castro's Plane Story Described As 'Swindle'

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Fidel Castro's story of the capture of an arms-laden plane has been described as "one of the greatest swindles ever perpetrated on public opinion in the Americas."

Col. John Abbes Garcia, Dominican army intelligence chief, said Sunday the story is full of contradictions.

Bruised In Car Fall

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Three-year-old Brenda Trimmel fell from her father's car while it was going 50 m.p.h. on U.S. 20 in Lake County Sunday. Her father, Raymond Trimmel of Elyria, said the child apparently opened the rear door of the car. The girl had only bruises to show for the experience. She was treated and released from Lake County Memorial Hospital.

Miss Seafood Princess Doesn't Care For Fish

POINT PLEASANT, N. J. (AP) —Susan Millstein, 19, was named Miss Seafood Princess Saturday.

In her first public pronouncement she said "I guess I should say I like fish but I just don't and I won't eat it. The only time I went fishing I fell into Silver Lake trying to make a cast."

Idaho was established as a pioneer state by Nathaniel J. Wyeth, a merchant of Massachusetts.

Cleaning? Play It Cool!

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

A cool summer morning is a wonderful time to clean house. You can do many tasks that are real chores in the damp spring or cold winter.

It's the ideal time to clean upholstery, rugs, slipcovers, because you can do it outside for easier drying or indoors, drying it more quickly than in other seasons. It's a good time to wash blankets and bedspreads, too.

CLEAN upholstered furniture by vacuuming it thoroughly, then apply your favorite cleansing agent. Washable fabrics may require nothing more than a light soap sudsing.

More thorough cleaning may need more drastic action, such as the old fashioned dry cleaning fluids that work better than a lot of the cleaners highly touted for that purpose.

Move smaller pieces such as chairs and ottomans to a screened porch or other airy shady spot. Open windows and air the larger pieces thoroughly after you have cleaned them. Avoid inhaling cleaning fluids, especially those containing carbon tetrachlorde.

Rugs are easily cleaned on warm dry mornings also, because those that are too big to be taken up can be shampooed right on the floor and dried while you take the youngsters shopping or go to the beach.

If your rug shampooer is a vacuum cleaner attachment, use an extension cord to shampoo it outdoors or plug it in to the porch light or other nearby outlet.

BE PATIENT in cleaning a large rug, and you'll get professional results. Do a small area at a time. Don't get it too wet, and follow directions on your shampooer. Be sure to vacuum the rug thoroughly before washing it.

I had a particularly fine experience cleaning a white cotton rug recently. It had a number of fruit stains on it, and a good deal of dirt where it had taken heavy traffic.

The results were very pleasing as the rug emerged bright white from its shampoo. I cleaned it on an outdoor deck and let it dry in the sunshine.

Summer is a good time to do outside windows, also. Use a long-handled sponge mop on windows you can reach. Use the hose on windows that cannot be cleaned from indoors.

Another reason summer household tasks seem lighter is because you can work in your shorts and flat shoes, always a relief to women who enjoy comfort when they must work indoors.

Ticket Battle Appears Over

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler today was expected to announce an end to the ticket argument that threatened to cost Los Angeles the party's 1960 convention.

Republican Mayor Norris Poulson, denying a Chicago newspaper report that Los Angeles had withdrawn its offer to hold the convention, said: "I'm positive it will be held here."

Conspicuously absent from a conference scheduled late this afternoon will be wealthy oilman Edwin O. Pauley, credited by many with raising most of the $350,000 necessary to underwrite convention costs.

Pauley returned to his home in the Hawaiian Islands Friday after an inconclusive meeting with Butler and the host committee.

The Chicago Tribune said Los Angeles has withdrawn its $350,000 offer to be host for the party's 1960 convention, according to a member of the city's convention committee. It said official announcement was delayed until today to give Butler an opportunity to organize a new Los Angeles sponsoring committee, or to reorganize the old one.

The paper said other sources a new financial "angel" to replace Pauley. It added if Butler is unable to arrange Los Angeles financing, Chicago will automatically be back in the running as host convention city.

Pauley insisted he was given a guarantee of 5,000 convention tickets in exchange for his fund-raising efforts. That would be ten times more than any host city has ever received.

Butler says there was no guarantee.

"The host city can have 1,500 tickets and I don't mean 1,501," he said.

When it looked as if an impasse had been reached, Poulson suggested a compromise. Would Pauley accept 3,133 tickets? Pauley, an old friend of former President Harry S. Truman and no admirer of Butler, said he would.

Butler stood by his guns. He telephoned County Supervisor Kenneth Hahn last Wednesday and said he would begin shopping for a new convention site if Los Angeles did not agree to accept 1,500 tickets.

Ike Visits Links Early With Grandson David

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower, with his 11-year-old grandson as his partner, got in some early morning golf today in advance of a visit to his Hotel Gettysburg office.

The President and David showed up at the Gettysburg Country club at 7:40 a.m., earlier than his usual time.

The hour apparently was too early for Eisenhower's house guests and frequent golfing companions, Clifford Roberts, Walton Jones and William E. Robinson.

Symington, Kennedy Lead In Poll Held By Sen. Young

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Stuart Symington (Mo) and John F. Kennedy (Mass) were the choice of Ohio Democrats for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination in a poll by Sen. Stephen M. Young (D-Ohio).

Symington and Kennedy tied for first place with 115 votes each in replies submitted to a questionnaire Young's office sent to more than 1,200 Ohio Democrats.

Adlai Stevenson, twice-defeated Democratic candidate, rated third with 65 votes and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) came next with 36 first choice votes.

Other choices: Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, 12 first place votes; Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), 9, and Gov. Pat Brown of California and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, 3 each.

Young said he was "surprised and delighted" that a number of persons selected him to go to the Democratic convention as Ohio's favorite son. But, he added, he will not consider becoming such a candidate and may not even seek to become a delegate to the convention.

In the favorite son poll, Young rated second to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle who received 152 votes. Young was given 48 first choice votes. Third place went to Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) who had 39.

The Ohioans preferred, by 210-143, that top contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination enter the Ohio presidential preference primary.

They voted 254-88 in favor of Ohio's delegation going to the Democratic national convention uninstructed other than to support a favorite son on early ballots.

Economic policy — including debt, inflation, budget and taxes—was chosen as the most important issue in the 1960 elections.

A 206-153 vote was recorded against raising the highway gasoline tax by 1½ cents per gallon to keep the road building program on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Increased spending for space exploration and development of space platforms was approved 165-148. More extensive distribution of farm surplus products to poor people and to the "have-not" nations was approved 350-9.

'Won't Be Pushed Around' French Premier Declares

L'ILE BOUCHARD, France (AP)—Premier Michel Debre says France won't be pushed around by her allies any more and will demand they back up her war in Algeria all the way.

His speech sounded like a public preview of what President Charles de Gaulle will tell President Eisenhower when the two confer in private next month.

Debre spoke to his constituents Sunday in this Loire Valley village in west central France.

The premier, a faithful supporter of De Gaulle's goal of restoring the authority of France on the international scene, insisted this does not mean France is doomed to stand alone within the Western alliance.

He said De Gaulle's policy "is a reaction against the alliances which, through our weakness, led to our subjection to foreign powers which did not hesitate to oppose our essential interests."

Commenting that Algeria had been "created by us, that is to say by Frenchmen from our soil," the premier said "the destiny of France is linked with the Algerian destiny — everything changes for us according to whether we hold or do not hold on to this old territory."

"It is for renovated France to make her allies understand that she has the right to demand all their most complete support for a cause which goes far beyond a people and a generation."

The United States in recent years has refused to give France the full backing she wants for her Algerian policy. The Americans have tried to take a middle road, hoping they won't offend the French too much and at the same time trying not to anger the Asian and African nations who support the Algerian rebels.

De Gaulle also wants a voice equal to those of the United States and Britain in the decisions of the Atlantic Alliance — although France has pulled most of her troops out of Europe to fight in Algeria.

"To avoid being crushed by agreements between very great powers, a nation like France must be in a position to make itself heard and understood," he said.

The Eisenhower-Kurhshchev exchange is the obstensible reason for the American president's visit to Paris next month. He also will go to London and Bonn to discuss Allied policy.

Driver's Power-less When Line Falls Down

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Jack Anderson, 27, was ready to pull out of a driveway with a truckload of furniture when a 2,300-volt power line broke and fell across the truck cab.

Knowing the truck's rubber tires insulated him against shock, Anderson sat still. He chain-smoked cigarets until a power company crew arrived 30 minutes later.

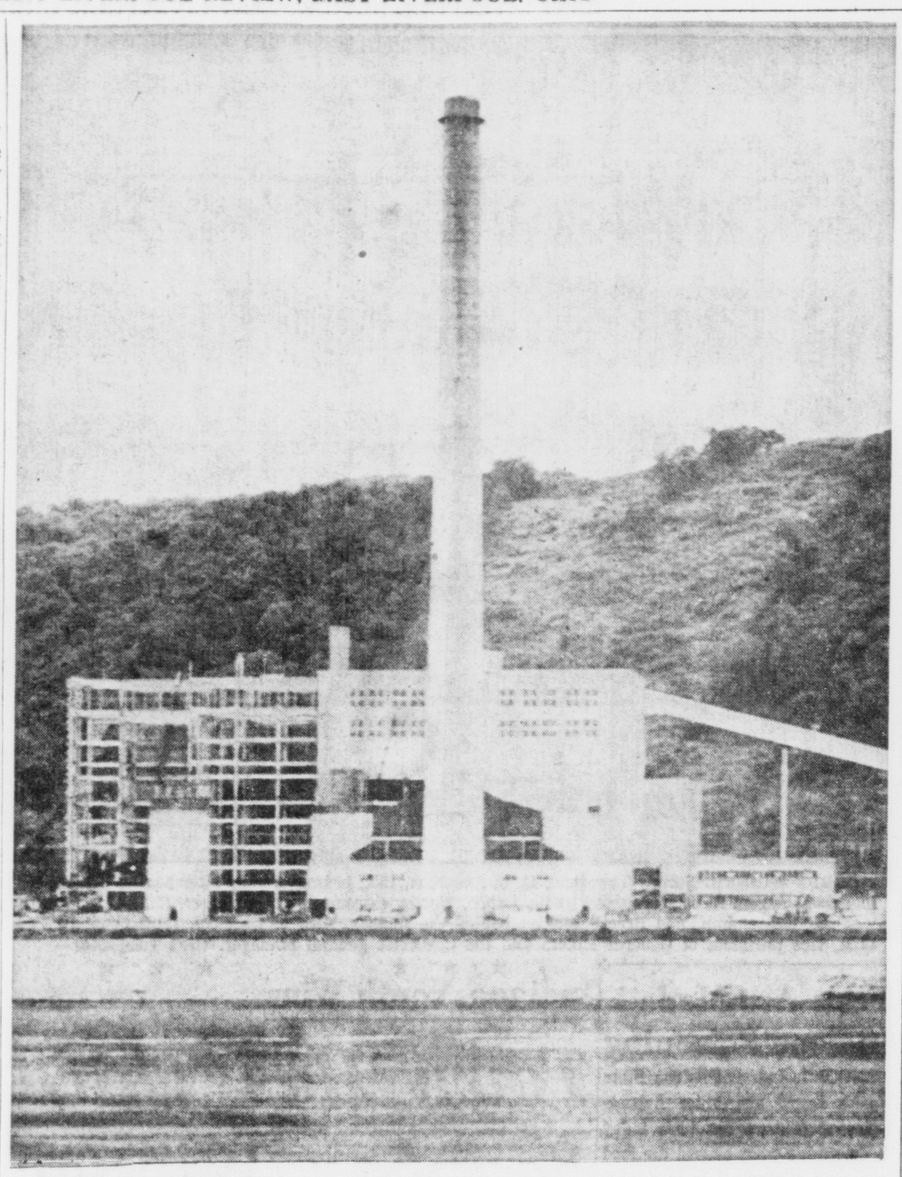

The crew found the line carried no electricity.

Church Puts New Light On Integration Issue

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A man often accused of fomenting violence in Little Rock's 1957 integration crisis has joined a church and says the racial issue is now unimportant.

James T. Karam, 51, a clothier, said he joined the Baptist church.

"To know Christ is so much more important than segregation or integration," Kram said of his new way of life.

HALTED BY STRIKE. Construction at the Ohio Edison Co.'s new power plant at Stratton has been halted by a boilermakers' strike, but tests of the facility, the largest in the system, are continuing. This view from Route 66 in Hancock County shows the framework for the remainder of the generating plant and the start of a second smokestack which will join its "twin" 500-foot stack when completed. The last of four 170,000-kilowatt generators is scheduled to be completed in 1962. The estimated cost is $118 million

Man, 98, And Wife, 96, Fly To See Daughter

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — What made Pasquale Trimboli make his first trip away from New York in half a century by airplane?

"Because I'm a crazy man — crazy," said the 98-year-old retired home builder with a grin as he embraced his surprised daughter Sunday at the Norfolk airport.

Trimboli and his wife, 96, made the plane trip to see their daughter and three grandchildren. They will spend a week in Portsmouth, then return to their Cedarhurst, L. I., home by plane.

After that? "Certainly more travel," said Trimboli.

Castro's Plane Story Described As 'Swindle'

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Fidel Castro's story of the capture of an arms-laden plane has been described as "one of the greatest swindles ever perpetrated on public opinion in the Americas."

Col. John Abbes Garcia, Dominican army intelligence chief, said Sunday the story is full of contradictions.

Bruised In Car Fall

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Three-year-old Brenda Trimmel fell from her father's car while it was going 50 m.p.h. on U.S. 20 in Lake County Sunday. Her father, Raymond Trimmel of Elyria, said the child apparently opened the rear door of the car. The girl had only bruises to show for the experience. She was treated and released from Lake County Memorial Hospital.

Miss Seafood Princess Doesn't Care For Fish

POINT PLEASANT, N. J. (AP) —Susan Millstein, 19, was named Miss Seafood Princess Saturday.

In her first public pronouncement she said "I guess I should say I like fish but I just don't and I won't eat it. The only time I went fishing I fell into Silver Lake trying to make a cast."

Idaho was established as a pioneer state by Nathaniel J. Wyeth, a merchant of Massachusetts.

Anti-Cobra Serum Rushed 1,300 Miles By Jet Plane

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—A 4-foot-long Indian cobra bit an employe of a reptile garden near here Sunday. He may live because of a dramatic 1,300-mile flight from Miami, Fla.

The Coast Guard and the Air Force flew anti-cobra serum from Miami to St. Joseph after William White, 32, was bitten. The serum was administered six hours later.

A single drop of cobra venom can be fatal. Usually it takes only four hours to kill, said William H. Haast, operator of the Miami serpentorium.

But the cobra's fangs pierced a sack of heavy material before they hit White on a thumb. The bag apparently absorbed some of the venom.

A hospital attendant said White, who has been bitten about 100 times by non-poisonous snakes during his four years at the reptile garden, remarked as the serum was injected "I knew all the time I'd be okay."

A few minutes after midnight, Dr. C. C. DuMont said White's condition was satisfactory.

"He has a chance to recover," said Dr. DuMont. "I think he'll be okay."

After White was bitten, a telephone call was made to the Miami serpentorium. Flinchpaugh said it was the only source of anti-cobra serum in the United States. The serum is made in Bombay, India.

While Air Force Lieutenants James H. Ahmann of Louisville, Ky., and Larry Marks of Miami stood by a T33 jet trainer, a Coast Guard helicopter picked up the vial of serum at the serpentorium.

The jet covered the 1,300 miles from Miami to this city in northwest Missouri in 3 hours, 48 minutes.

Tests Are Made In Food Poisoning

ANGOLA, Ind. (AP)—The State Health Board and Miles Laboratories of Elkhart ran tests today to determine what caused the food poisoning of 750 adults and children at a Miles outing.

None of the victims was in serious condition and all but a handful were out of hospitals, but they were violently ill Saturday at a company picnic near here.

Dr. Andrew C. Offutt, state health commissioner, said the poisoning could have been a result of the picnic lunch remaining a few hours in an unrefrigerated truck.

Doctors described the poisoning as a mild form, but it left its victims in misery.

"People were dropping all around me like flies," said Earl Buckmaster, 56, Elkhart, a Miles employe.

About 3,000 persons attended the picnic.

Rep. Hays Will Attend Exposition In Moscow

Rep. Wayne L. Hays of the 18th Ohio Congressional District, chairman of the Subcommittee on State Department Organiation and Foreign Operations, has been named by the House Foreign Affairs Committee to visit the American Exposition in Moscow.

Indiana Youth Wins

Town Has Third Soapbox Winner

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The new national soap box champion—a freckle-faced 13-year-old from Anderson, Ind.—almost didn't make it here because of a baseball injury.

Barney Townsend, a 97-pounder who stands 5-feet, 2½ inches, won the title Sunday before almost 100,000 persons, including Vice President Nixon. His half-length triumph earned Barney a pile of prizes, including a $5,000 college scholarship.

After winning the Anderson title, Barney was playing baseball and was upended by a runner while making a tag at second base. He suffered a broken collarbone.

A little more than a week ago, doctors removed the brace and gave him permission to come here for the racing classic. In winning, Barney followed a family and state tradition.

Terry Townsend, an older brother, won the national title two years ago. Another brother, Brooks, won the Anderson title in 1955 but lost out in the first round here.

Barney was Anderson's third champion in the national soap box competition and the Hoosier state has three other champs—all from Muncie. In fact, Indiana now has won the title three years in a row. Last year's winner was James Miley of Muncie.

Ace Edward Fogarty, 15, of Tampa, Fla., was second, and Jon Hesskamp, 14, of St. Charles, Mo., placed third in the final race after a record field of 170 entrants competed in 89 elimination heats.

Townsend's winning time over the 975-foot strip was :27.90 seconds, approximately 24 miles an hour.

Anti-Cobra Serum Rushed 1,300 Miles By Jet Plane

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—A 4-foot-long Indian cobra bit an employe of a reptile garden near here Sunday. He may live because of a dramatic 1,300-mile flight from Miami, Fla.

The Coast Guard and the Air Force flew anti-cobra serum from Miami to St. Joseph after William White, 32, was bitten. The serum was administered six hours later.

A single drop of cobra venom can be fatal. Usually it takes only four hours to kill, said William H. Haast, operator of the Miami serpentorium.

But the cobra's fangs pierced a sack of heavy material before they hit White on a thumb. The bag apparently absorbed some of the venom.

A hospital attendant said White, who has been bitten about 100 times by non-poisonous snakes during his four years at the reptile garden, remarked as the serum was injected "I knew all the time I'd be okay."

A few minutes after midnight, Dr. C. C. DuMont said White's condition was satisfactory.

"He has a chance to recover," said Dr. DuMont. "I think he'll be okay."

After White was bitten, a telephone call was made to the Miami serpentorium. Flinchpaugh said it was the only source of anti-cobra serum in the United States. The serum is made in Bombay, India.

While Air Force Lieutenants James H. Ahmann of Louisville, Ky., and Larry Marks of Miami stood by a T33 jet trainer, a Coast Guard helicopter picked up the vial of serum at the serpentorium.

The jet covered the 1,300 miles from Miami to this city in northwest Missouri in 3 hours, 48 minutes.

Tests Are Made In Food Poisoning

ANGOLA, Ind. (AP)—The State Health Board and Miles Laboratories of Elkhart ran tests today to determine what caused the food poisoning of 750 adults and children at a Miles outing.

None of the victims was in serious condition and all but a handful were out of hospitals, but they were violently ill Saturday at a company picnic near here.

Dr. Andrew C. Offutt, state health commissioner, said the poisoning could have been a result of the picnic lunch remaining a few hours in an unrefrigerated truck.

Doctors described the poisoning as a mild form, but it left its victims in misery.

"People were dropping all around me like flies," said Earl Buckmaster, 56, Elkhart, a Miles employe.

About 3,000 persons attended the picnic.

Family Reviews Problems During Bomb Shelter Test

By RUSSELL H. MULLEN

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The Thomas A. Powner family has just survived a rigorous test of togetherness. All five of them emerged Friday after two weeks of isolation in a 72-square-foot a-bomb shelter.

And, said Mr. and Mrs. Powner Saturday, the experience was "very beneficial."

After a day of medical and psychological tests, the parents held a news conference at Princeton University with their two boys, Scott, 5, and Tory, 3½; and girl, Hilary, 23 months.

The family had gone into the cubicle on July 31 in the basement of a university laboratory at the request of the Federal Office of Civilian Defense.

The main purpose was to learn what physical and psychological changes are needed in civil defense plans for a standard family shelter.

Powner, 31, said the main problems during the two weeks were heat and odors. He's a contractor from Cranbury and has built several homes. Powner had several suggestions for making life more livable in a shelter. One dealt with garbage disposal.

They accumulated a four-foot pile of garbage.

Air was piped in to the concrete shelter and circulated by hand pumps which the family turned every half hour during waking hours.

Humidity was a problem with clothes taking a day and a half to dry after they were washed. The temperature averaged 83 degrees at the ceiling and 71 at the floor.

They took 38 gallons of water in with them and had 10 left over when they walked out.

The parents took along a word game and a dozen books. For the children, they had books, games, crayons, puzzles and toys.

The shelter was stocked with $130 worth of food, all of it canned or packaged. It ranged from ravioli to peanut butter.

Mrs. Powner cooked in a chafing dish over a candle. It took an hour and a half to heat a can of spaghetti.

The family didn't know it at the time but every word they spoke during the 336-hour stint was monitored and recorded on 38 miles of tape. Prof. Jack A. Vernon said the monitoring was necessary for the Powners' own safety and they could not be told of it or the test would not have been realistic.

Mrs. Powner, 31, wore shorts during the test and, like the other members of the family, went barefoot. She made one concession to gracious living—a lipstick which she took along and used "to keep up my morale."

Once a day the family did exercises, capped by a big march around the shelter accompanied by the noise of banging on tins.

Vernon said this noise was "intolerable" over the microphones. "I don't know how they stood it."

Lazy Beavers Out

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Beavers have a reputation for working — but not at the right time. For years Wisconsin State Fair officials have had beavers on exhibit, hoping they would demonstrate their dam building techniques. But now they've been dismissed as just plain lazy. This year the fair replaced them with otters, the comedians of the woods.

Japan Hit By Strike

TOKYO (AP)—Some 85,000 textile workers struck for higher wages today against nine cotton and synthetic companies producing almost 70 per cent of Japan's textile output.

Argument Over Auto Race Leads To Man's Gun Death

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — Something went wrong with a $5 bet on an auto race and one of the parties to the wager was slain early today—shot three times in the back as he sat in a restaurant booth.

Sheriff C. Russell Burns said the victim of the unusual shooting was Kenneth (Whitey) Angell, 28, of Wheelersburg, east of Portsmouth, where the shooting took place.

Held on an open charge pending filing of first - degree murder charges, the sheriff said, is Earl (Bud) Cantrell, 29, of Franklin Furnace.

Burns and his deputies said witnesses described the shooting this way:

Angell and Cantrell had been drinking together at the Lakeview Inn at Hanging Rock. Both had new 1959 automobiles. They got into an argument as to which car was best, and made a $5 bet to race the cars from the inn to Pop's Place, a drive-in restaurant in Wheelersburg. Cantrell drove his own car, and Angell's car was driven by Zane Fraley, 19.

Cantrell was leading when his car ran out of gas.

At Pop's Place, the men argued again and got into a fist fight when Cantrell declined to pay the bet because the car ran out of gas.

After the fight, the sheriff said, Cantrell went to his home and got a .22 caliber rifle. He returned to the restaurant, found Angell sitting in a booth and fired three shots from the back of the booth, deputies said.

Cantrall remained in the restaurant until deputies arrived.

Last Civil War Veteran Remains 'About Same'

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Confederate veteran Walter Williams, critically ill for a week, remains "about the same," his daughter said Sunday night.

Williams, 116, last survivor of the Civil War armies, took some nourishment Sunday morning but none the rest of the day.

Dr. Russell Wolfe, Williams' physician, reported a week ago that the old soldier's death could be expected within days. An attack of pneumonia about six weeks ago left him in weakened condition.

Chute Fails To Open

NEW BOSTON, N. H. (AP) — An Air Force pilot was found dead Saturday, 12 hours after he parachuted from a jet fighter plane which had run out of fuel. He was Capt. Russell Nelson, 27, of Big Spring, Tex. Officials said his parachute failed to open.

White Sox Lead Cut To 3 Games After 7-2 Loss

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

They laughed last winter when Boston owner Tom Yawkey traded Jimmy Piersall, his flashy center fielder, to Cleveland for Gary Geiger, a nondescript flychaser and Vic Wertz, a fading first baseman.

Joe Cronin, then the Red Sox general manager, and Mike Higgins, then the field manager, were in no mood for laughter. They were quite upset when Yawkey informed them of the deal—the first and only one he ever made.

"It's your club," was the substance of their lukewarm acceptance of the boss' trade.

"I'll take the responsibility," said Yawkey.

The Red Sox owner can take the bows today for one of the best player transactions ever made by the club.

Geiger, only 22, has easily been the happiest development in the Red Sox' rebuilding program. The fast-developing youngster is hitting .279 with 10 home runs and 38 runs batted in. Wertz, though hampered by injuries, is hitting .280 with seven homers and 45 runs batted in. Piersall, who lost the regular center field job in Cleveland to Tito Francona, is hitting only .240 with three home runs and 21 runs batted in.

Geiger and Wertz played key roles in the Red Sox near-sweep of a four - game series with the New York Yankees. It wasn't their fault that the Yankees won the second game Sunday, 4-2, after the Red Sox had won the opener, 6-5.

Kansas City defeated Chicago 7-2 and narrowed the White Sox' first place lead over Cleveland to three games. The Indians lost an opportunity to pick up more ground when a violent rainstorm in Detroit postponed their game in the second inning after they had scored five runs in the first. Washington whipped Baltimore 6-1.

The Red Sox scored all their first game runs and made all their hits — six — in the second inning, inflicting the seventh loss upon Duke Maas. Wertz ignited the six-run rally with a single. Geiger drove in the run that broke a 3-3 tie with a single.

The pair, whose homers had highlighted Boston's winning nine-run rally against the Yankees Friday night, acquitted themselves nobly in Sunday's second game. Trailing 3-1 in the sixth, the Red Sox came within an eyelash of tying the score. Geiger opened with a single, his third hit. After Pete Runnels singled, Wertz drove Geiger home with a long single, sending Runnels to third. Jackie Jensen smashed a grounder toward left field but shortstop Cletis Boyer converted it into an inning-ending double play with a fine stop.

Mickey Mantle provided the lusty hitting for New York. He drove in two runs with a home run, his 24th of the season, in the first inning and scored in the eighth after walloping a double off the bleacher wall, 461 feet away.

Home runs by Bob Cerv, Preston Ward and Russ Snyder helped veteran Ned Garver gain his ninth victory as Kansas City made it two in a row over the White Sox. Dick Donovan, making his first start for Chicago since he suffered a shoulder injury July 21, was the loser.

Three Baltimore errors presented Washington with all but one of its six runs. Loser Jerry Walker gave up nine hits including a triple and single by catcher Clint Courtney, who drove in two runs. Pete Ramos allowed nine hits for his 11th victory. The Senators played without home run leader Harmon Killebrew who hurt his right wrist crashing into a wall Saturday night.

West Virginia Captures 17th All-Star Tilt

★ ★ ★ 11,500 Fans See Mounties Win 7-6 ★ ★ ★

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The consensus was that the outcome of the 1959 Ohio-West Virginia contest was good for the All-Star game.

For the first time in the last five years West Virginia came out on top with a well-earned 7-6 victory over the Buckeye stars Saturday night before an overflow crowd of 11,500 fans at Wheeling Island Stadium.

Ohio had won the last four games and the All-Star series was beginning to look something like the New York Yankees in the American League.

However, Saturday the margin of victory in the low-scoring game came on an extra point placement by Bob Butts of Benwood Union in the second quarter.

It split the uprights to break a 6-6 tie.

Ohio drew first blood Saturday night when a 43-yard pass play from Wintersville's Jim Hays to Steubenville Central's Rich Saccocia put the ball on the West Virginia 6-yard line.

From there Hays, playing quarterback, rolled out to his right and into the end zone for the first touchdown with 1:15 remaining in the first period.

Jack Kirkpatrick of Toronto attempted the extra point placement but end Walt Steinman of Wheeling broke through to block the try.

East Liverpool's two donations to the Ohio squad, guard Nick Musuraca, named co-captain of the Buckeyes, and halfback Bill O'Neil saw plenty of action. Musuraca played the entire contest, going both ways, as a guard on offense and at the left linebacker post on defense.

The 160-pound Musuraca, who is headed for Denison University this fall, was a bearcat on defense as he was in on most of the tackles.

O'Neil was used as a defensive halfback in the first half then played both ways the second half.

O'Neil pulled in one pass in the fourth quarter from Hays good for 19 yards. It moved the Buckeyes to the West Virginia 21 yard-line, but the attack fizzled out moments later.

Frank Dumas of Tridelphia and Bill Freeman of Wellsburg were the victorious coaches in the 17th annual All-Star contest. The West Virginians won their seventh game while Ohio has captured 10 in the series.

The two opposing quarterbacks won the "most valuable" player honors. For West Virginia it was Larry Tracewell of Parkersburg and Hays for the Buckeyes.

Tracewell was in on several key plays. He broke up several passes in the end zone playing a defensive halfback and recovered an important fumble.

Hays was the only player who kept the Ohio offense moving. The Buckeyes, coached by Charlie Becca of Brilliant and Fremo Ross of Cadiz, didn't show much of a running game, but Hays was successful pitching most of the evening to big Floyd White of Cadiz.

West Virginia flashed several running stars in Catfish Hearst, a great breakaway runner, and Butts.

Ohio carried the battle to West Virginia in the first period, playing in Mountaineer territory most of the time.

After West Virginia punted to the Ohio 38, Hays on a keeper picked up eight yards then Ohio gained a first down on the West Virginia 49.

Hays threw to Saccoccia who was pulled down at the six-yard line. Hays took over from there and scampered into the end zone.

West Virginia countered late in the second period. After Hays had been thrown for a 16-yard loss, Ohio was forced to punt.

The ball was returned to the Buckeye 34 by Tracewell. Butts went off tackle for nine yards, then a roughness penalty placed the ball on the Ohio 18.

Butts hit up the middle again for three yards then Hearst, the track and football star from Wellsburg, was tossed for a four-yard loss back to the 19.

Tracewell called on Butts again and the Union express crashed through for 14 yards and a first down at the five-yard line.

Tracewell on a quarterback sneak picked up one yard, Butts got two more to the two and Boston jumped into the end zone for the equalizer with 4:02 remaining in the first half.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Bill O'Neil is about to step out of bounds after hauling in a pass from quarterback Jim Hays good for 19 yards in the fourth quarter of the Ohio-West Virginia All-Star game Saturday at Wheeling Island Stadium. O'Neil and Nick Musuraca represented East Liverpool in the annual contest. West Virginia defeated Ohio, 7-6.

U.S., Australia To Meet Again In Davis Cup Finals

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — "We can win back the Davis Cup if our boys hold their present form," said Australia's Harry Hopman.

"I think it's 50-50" said Perry Jones of Los Angeles. "We are lucky. In Alex Olmedo, we have the best amateur player in the world."

The Aussies, who have won the cup eight times to America's seven since the two - nation monopoly took root in 1938, ended the long, hard climb to the challenge round Sunday by routing India 4-1.

Neale Fraser, playing at his peak, shattered India's dreams of an upset by outclassing the sensational Ramanathan Krishnan in the first of two last day singles matches 6-2, 6-3, 6-4. Rod Laver, 21 - year - old Queenslander, beat Premjit Lall, 18-year-old Calcutta student, 6-2, 10-8, 6-4.

Hopman said he probably would use his lefthanders, Fraser and Laver in singles and his Wimbledon champions Fraser and Roy Emerson, in doubles.

Earlier, Hopman told a Boston press conference that he thought America was lucky in the Davis Cup matches a year ago and that he thought he had three players—Fraser, Laver and Emerson—who could beat Olmedo.

Jones, 71 - year - old California executive, laughed off this statement.

"You know Harry — he's just talking to raise the confidence of his team," Jones said. "Nobody is going to beat Olmedo. He is the established, bona fide amateur champion of the world. He has proved it by coming through in big matches and he will prove it in the Davis Cup."

North Coach Has Praise For Line In 18-0 Win

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Fred George, who coached the North high school football all-stars to an 18-0 victory over the South squad, was particularly happy about the way the big North line operated.

While he had high praise for such backfield standouts as Dave Eckard of Coventry, selected the outstanding player of the game Saturday night, George said the line "did an exceptionally good job on interior blocking, especially in trap blocking."

It was the seventh victory for a North squad in 14 Ohio high school North-South All-Star games. South squads have won five, and two ended in ties.

Two North touchdowns came on 6-inch plunges by Leo Caito of Cleveland Cathedral Latin and Vic Ippolito of Shaker Heights. The third was on a 71-yard pass play. All-Ohio quarterback Walter Zingg of Alliance heaved the pigskin 43 yards to halfback Don Lisbon of Youngstown South, who raced for the score.

The third North touchdown was set up when all-Ohio end Bob Vogel of Massillon recovered a fumble by Jesse Hodges of Cincinnati Hughes on the South seven-yard line. Ippolito went into the end zone three plays later.

Tittle's Late TD Pass Nips Washington, 27-24

Nine seconds remained four plays later. Tittle had his forces massed on the Redskin 16. He faded back, picked out end Clyde Conner and fired a pass for the touchdown that gave the 49ers a 27-24 victory in their debut under new Coach Red Hickey.

It was the same story Saturday Zeke Bratkowski's toss to Rick Casares with 41 seconds remaining gave the Chicago Bears a 19-16 victory over Green Bay. John Crow went 71 yards for a TD in the final three minutes as Chicago's Cardinals edged Detroit 21-19. A 43-yard jaunt by Walt Kowalczyk midway of the final period provided the winning margin as Philadelphia defeated New York 21-17.

Tribe, Tigers Try Again After Rained Out Contest

DETROIT (AP) — The Cleveland Indians, still grumbling over the weatherman's interference in the American League pennant race, meet the Detroit Tigrs today—a day they figured could be used for resting up.

The loss of rest didn't hurt as much as the loss of five runs, though.

The Indians took a 5-0 lead in the first inning of Sunday's game. A torrential downpour washed out the contest in the second inning. The umpires, realizing the importance of the game, waited one hour and 45 minutes before calling it off.

"I was afraid something like this would happen," moaned general manager Frank Lane. "I knew a five-run lead was too good to be true."

The Indians have no more dates scheduled in Detroit, so the game was rescheduled for the normally off day.

Cleveland gained a half-game in its bid to overtake Chicago when the White Sox lost at Kansas City and had their first place margin reduced to 3 games.

Detroit and Cleveland start from scratch today with the same pitchers. Gary Bell (13-9) goes after his sixth straight triumph against Paul Foytack (10-10) for the Tigers.

Foytack didn't last long Sunday and Bell seemed well on his way to victory.

Vic Power and Minnie Minoso opened with back-to-back doubles for one run. Tito Francona's long fly sent Minoso to third. Rocky Colavito walked and Jim Baxes' sacrifice fly scored Minoso with the second run.

George Strickland's single delivered Colavito and Foytack went to the showers after walking Russ Nion. Ray Narleski came in to relieve.

The ex-Cleveland hurler apparently forgot there were men on base, went into a big windup and Strickland and Nion pulled a double steal.

While in the act of winding up again, Narleski dropped the ball. That constituted a balk and Strickland scored and Nion took third. Woodie Held then smacked a single and the fifth run scored.

Bell finally struck out to end the inning.

The Indians return home Tuesday night for the start of a 15-game series that will carry them through Sept. 2. They open against Washington.

Local Man's Horse Wins At Wheeling

The "East Liverpool Purse" Saturday at Wheeling Downs was won by Equated, owned by Tom Carnegie, an East Liverpool used car dealer.

Equated triumphed over a field of eight other horses to win the $1,500 race.

Banks Slams No. 36

Chicago Trips Giants, 5-4; Pirates Split With Braves

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ernie Banks, Chicago's slugging shortstop, may become the first player in National League history to be voted the circuit's most valuable player in two years in succession.

Two National Leaguers — Stan Musial and Roy Campanella — won the coveted honor three times and two others—Rogers Hornsby and Carl Hubbell—won it twice but nobody has done it twice in succession.

Banks strengthened his claim Sunday, banging a two-run homer —his 36th of the season—as the Cubs defeated the San Francisco Giants 5-4 for their third victory in the four-game series. Ernie also was on base when Lee Walls smashed a three-run homer off loser Johnny Antonelli to break a 2-2 tie.

Ernie, batting .312, leads both leagues with 112 runs batted in and is tied for the lead with Washington's Harmon Killebrew in home runs. Last year he led both leagues with 47 home runs and 129 runs batted in.

Despite the defeat, the Giants retained their 2½ game lead over Los Angeles when St. Louis defeated the Dodgers 5-3. Milwaukee's third place Braves split with Pittsburgh, winning the second game of a doubleheader 5-2 after the Pirates had won the opener 2-1. Philadelphia swept a twin bill from Cincinnati 8-5 and 6-0.

Banks was an unexpected starter. He had been hit on the back by a pitch Saturday and doctors said it would be several days before Ernie would be able to play.

Bob Anderson was the winner but he needed help in the eighth inning from Don Elston, who struck out pinch hitter Felipe Alou with two runners on base. Willie Mays drove in two Giant runs with his 21st homer.

Larry Jackson pitched a 10-hitter as the Cards evened the four-game series with Los Angeles. Bill White and rookie Gene Oliver drove in all St. Louis' runs. White knocked in two with a single and his 11th homer. Oliver had a two-run single and a sacrifice fly. Roger Craig was the loser. Four were ejected in the argument-filled game, manager Solly Hemus, Don Blasingame and Ken Boyer of the Cards and Duke Snider of the Dodgers.

Bob Friend, after seven failures, finally won his 100th game, fifth of the season. The Pirates' 22-game winner of 1958 was tagged for 11 hits in the opener but his mates helped him with three double plays and relief pitcher Bob Porterfield came to his rescue in the ninth when the Braves got their lone run. Dick Stuart drove in both Pittsburgh runs off Juan Pizarro with a homer. Warren Spahn won the second for the Braves, doling out eight hits for his 16th triumph. Rookie Lee Mays and Frank Torre, with two hits and two runs each, paced the Braves' nine-hit attack.

Shortstop Joe Koppe hit a three-run homer to feature a six-run sixth inning attack in the first game and Don Cardwell pitched a six-hit shutout in the second game to highlight the Phils' double victory over Cincinnati. Wally Post's 15th homer, with a man on base in the first inning, off loser Jay Hook, was all Cardwell needed.

Wells Almost Matches Age In Golf Score

J. M. Wells, the veteran golfer, almost attained his goal Saturday when he captured the match play against par event at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Wells, who is 70, was attempting to match his age and came within one year when he fired a 71 to finish 5-up in the first division competition.

Wells posted a 37 on the first round and a 34 on the second.

W. T. Pomeroy and Norman Ankrim finished 3 up, while Don Schreckengost and Dr. R. J. Kinsey closed with 2 up.

'Ready To Go' Mitchell Says

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Browns will get a big boost when halfback Bobby Mitchell is released from Fort Lee, Va., and reports to the training camp here Thursday.

Mitchell was in Chicago over the weekend to accept an award at the college all-star game. "I'm really eager to get going this time," he said. "It just didn't seem right staying down there at the Army camp when the team was playing in Pittsburgh the other night."

Mitchell said he's in good shape and will be ready to play when the Browns play their next exhibition game, against Detroit's Lions, in the Akron Rubber Bowl.

"I'm just a couple of pounds over what I weighed at the end of last year," Mitchell said.

The sophomore speedster gained an even 500 yards in his first season in the National Football League in 1958, although he saw little action in the last five games of the campaign.

Coach Paul Brown is planning on Mitchell for the inside halfback —of left side—position.

U.S. Netters Top British, Bring Back Wightman Cup

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

SEWICKLEY, Pa. (AP) — The Wightman Cup is back in its usual nesting place in the U.S. today. And if the British hope to win it again, they're going to have to find a teammate for Christine Truman.

The British won last year in a big upset. It marked the first time they triumphed since 1930 and they figured they should keep it, especially since the Americans were without the services of Althea Gibson.

But the American lassies won by taking four of seven weekend matches.

The trouble with the British girls is that they can't hit. They all are strictly baseline players with the exception of the 6-foot, 18-year-old Miss Truman. She's a comer and will cause a lot of trouble in the future. But she needs help.

Going into the final four matches, the U.S. held a 2-1 margin. Darlene Hard, a Pomona College pre-medical student, turned back Angela Mortimer, 6-3, 6-8, 6-4 in the first singles to make it 3-1.

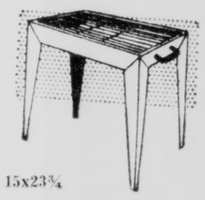

Then Mrs. Beverly Fleitz wrapped it up with a 6-4, 6-4 victory over Miss Truman.

"No doubt about it," said Mrs. Fleitz, "I was playing real well. Christine is a good player and is a comer."

Mrs. Fleitz was right on both counts. She turned out to be the power of the American team, winning both her singles.

"I'm disappointed, of course," Miss Truman said. "But I'll be around for a long time, I hope, and maybe we'll win it next year."

Walter Miller was the first jockey to ride 300 or more winners in a year, winning 388 races in 1906. His record stood for 46 years.

White Sox Lead Cut To 3 Games After 7-2 Loss

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

They laughed last winter when Boston owner Tom Yawkey traded Jimmy Piersall, his flashy center fielder, to Cleveland for Gary Geiger, a nondescript flychaser and Vic Wertz, a fading first baseman.

Joe Cronin, then the Red Sox general manager, and Mike Higgins, then the field manager, were in no mood for laughter. They were quite upset when Yawkey informed them of the deal—the first and only one he ever made.

"It's your club," was the substance of their lukewarm acceptance of the boss' trade.

"I'll take the responsibility," said Yawkey.

The Red Sox owner can take the bows today for one of the best player transactions ever made by the club.

Geiger, only 22, has easily been the happiest development in the Red Sox' rebuilding program. The fast-developing youngster is hitting .279 with 10 home runs and 38 runs batted in. Wertz, though hampered by injuries, is hitting .280 with seven homers and 45 runs batted in. Piersall, who lost the regular center field job in Cleveland to Tito Francona, is hitting only .240 with three home runs and 21 runs batted in.

Geiger and Wertz played key roles in the Red Sox near-sweep of a four - game series with the New York Yankees. It wasn't their fault that the Yankees won the second game Sunday, 4-2, after the Red Sox had won the opener, 6-5.

Kansas City defeated Chicago 7-2 and narrowed the White Sox' first place lead over Cleveland to three games. The Indians lost an opportunity to pick up more ground when a violent rainstorm in Detroit postponed their game in the second inning after they had scored five runs in the first.

Washington whipped Baltimore 6-1.

The Red Sox scored all their first game runs and made all their hits — six — in the second inning, inflicting the seventh loss upon Duke Maas. Wertz ignited the six-run rally with a single. Geiger drove in the run that broke a 3-3 tie with a single.

The pair, whose homers had highlighted Boston's winning nine-run rally against the Yankees Friday night, acquitted themselves nobly in Sunday's second game. Trailing 3-1 in the sixth, the Red Sox came within an eyelash of tying the score. Geiger opened with a single, his third hit. After Pete Runnels singled, Wertz drove Geiger home with a long single, sending Runnels to third. Jackie Jensen smashed a grounder toward left field but shortstop Cletis Boyer converted it into an inning-ending double play with a fine stop.

Mickey Mantle provided the lusty hitting for New York. He drove in two runs with a home run, his 24th of the season, in the first inning and scored in the eighth after walloping a double off the bleacher wall, 461 feet away.

Home runs by Bob Cerv, Preston Ward and Russ Snyder helped veteran Ned Garver gain his ninth victory as Kansas City made it two in a row over the White Sox. Dick Donovan, making his first start for Chicago since he suffered a shoulder injury July 21, was the loser.

Three Baltimore errors presented Washington with all but one of its six runs. Loser Jerry Walker gave up nine hits including a triple and single by catcher Clint Courtney, who drove in two runs. Pete Ramos allowed nine hits for his 11th victory. The Senators played without home run leader Harmon Killebrew who hurt his right wrist crashing into a wall Saturday night.

West Virginia Captures 17th All-Star Tilt

* * * 11,500 Fans See Mounties Win 7-6 * * *

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The consensus was that the outcome of the 1959 Ohio-West Virginia contest was good for the All-Star game.

For the first time in the last five years West Virginia came out on top with a well-earned 7-6 victory over the Buckeye stars Saturday night before an overflow crowd of 11,500 fans at Wheeling Island Stadium.

Ohio had won the last four games and the All-Star series was beginning to look something like the New York Yankees in the American League.

However, Saturday the margin of victory in the low-scoring game came on an extra point placement by Bob Butts of Benwood Union in the second quarter.

It split the uprights to break a 6-6 tie.

Ohio drew first blood Saturday night when a 43-yard pass play from Wintersville's Jim Hays to Steubenville Central's Rich Saccocia put the ball on the West Virginia 6-yard line.

From there Hays, playing quarterback, rolled out to his right and into the end zone for the first touchdown with 1:15 remaining in the first period.

Jack Kirkpatrick of Toronto attempted the extra point placement but end Walt Steinman of Wheeling broke through to block the try.

East Liverpool's two donations to the Ohio squad, guard Nick Musuraca, named co-captain of the Buckeyes, and halfback Bill O'Neil saw plenty of action. Musuraca played the entire contest, going both ways, as a guard on offense and at the left linebacker post on defense.

The 160-pound Musuraca, who is headed for Denison University this fall, was a bearcat on defense as he was in on most of the tackles.

O'Neil was used as a defensive halfback in the first half then played both ways the second half.

O'Neil pulled in one pass in the fourth quarter from Hays good for 19 yards. It moved the Buckeyes to the West Virginia 21 yard-line, but the attack fizzled out moments later.

Frank Dumas of Tridelphia and Bill Freeman of Wellsburg were the victorious coaches in the 17th annual All-Star contest. The West Virginians won their seventh game while Ohio has captured 10 in the series.

The two opposing quarterbacks won the "most valuable" player honors. For West Virginia it was Larry Tracewell of Parkersburg and Hays for the Buckeyes.

Tracewell was in on several key plays. He broke up several passes in the end zone playing a defensive halfback and recovered an important fumble.

Hays was the only player who kept the Ohio offense moving. The Buckeyes, coached by Charlie Becca of Brilliant and Fremo Ross of Cadiz, didn't show much of a running game, but Hays was successful pitching most of the evening to big Floyd White of Cadiz.

West Virginia flashed several running stars in Catfish Hearst, a great breakaway runner, and Butts.

Ohio carried the battle to West Virginia in the first period, playing in Mountaineer territory most of the time.

After West Virginia punted to the Ohio 38, Hays on a keeper picked up eight yards then Ohio gained a first down on the West Virginia 49.

Hays threw to Saccoccia who was pulled down at the six-yard line. Hays took over from there and scampered into the end zone.

West Virginia countered late in the second period. After Hays had been thrown for a 16-yard loss, Ohio was forced to punt.

The ball was returned to the Buckeye 34 by Tracewell. Butts went off tackle for nine yards, then a roughness penalty placed the ball on the Ohio 18.

Butts hit up the middle again for three yards then Hearst, the track and football star from Wellsburg, was tossed for a four-yard loss back to the 19.

Tracewell called on Butts again and the Union express crashed through for 14 yards and a first down at the five-yard line.

Tracewell on a quarterback sneak picked up one yard, Butts got two more to the two and Boston jumped into the end zone for the equalizer with 4:02 remaining in the first half.

Tribe, Tigers Try Again After Rained Out Contest

DETROIT (AP) — The Cleveland Indians, still grumbling over the weatherman's interference in the American League pennant race, meet the Detroit Tigrs today—a day they figured could be used for resting up.

The loss of rest didn't hurt as much as the loss of five runs, though.

The Indians took a 5-0 lead in the first inning of Sunday's game. A torrential downpour washed out the contest in the second inning. The umpires, realizing the importance of the game, waited one hour and 45 minutes before calling it off.

"I was afraid something like this would happen," moaned general manager Frank Lane. "I knew a five-run lead was too good to be true."

The Indians have no more dates scheduled in Detroit, so the game was rescheduled for the normally off day.

Cleveland gained a half-game in its bid to overtake Chicago when the White Sox lost at Kansas City and had their first place margin reduced to 3 games.

Detroit and Cleveland start from scratch today with the same pitchers. Gary Bell (13-9) goes after his sixth straight triumph against Paul Foytack (10-10) for the Tigers.

Foytack didn't last long Sunday and Bell seemed well on his way to victory.

Vic Power and Minnie Minoso opened with back-to-back doubles for one run. Tito Francona's long fly sent Minoso to third. Rocky Colavito walked and Jim Baxes' sacrifice fly scored Minoso with the second run.

George Strickland's single delivered Colavito and Foytack went to the showers after walking Russ Nion. Ray Narleski came in to relieve.

The ex-Cleveland hurler apparently forgot there were men on base, went into a big windup and Strickland and Nion pulled a double steal.

While in the act of winding up again, Narleski dropped the ball. That constituted a balk and Strickland scored and Nion took third. Woodie Held then smacked a single and the fifth run scored.

Bell finally struck out to end the inning.

The Indians return home Tuesday night for the start of a 15-game series that will carry them through Sept. 2. They open against Washington.

Local Man's Horse Wins At Wheeling

The "East Liverpool Purse" Saturday at Wheeling Downs was won by Equated, owned by Tom Carnegie, an East Liverpool used car dealer.

Equated triumphed over a field of eight other horses to win the $1,500 race.

Equated is the same horse which set a new world's record on the Waterford Park turf course during its past meeting.

Banks Slams No. 36

Chicago Trips Giants, 5-4; Pirates Split With Braves

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ernie Banks, Chicago's slugging shortstop, may become the first player in National League history to be voted the circuit's most valuable player in two years in succession.

Two National Leaguers — Stan Musial and Roy Campanella — won the coveted honor three times and two others—Rogers Hornsby and Carl Hubbell—won it twice but nobody has done it twice in succession.

Banks strengthened his claim Sunday, banging a two-run homer —his 36th of the season—as the Cubs defeated the San Francisco Giants 5-4 for their third victory in the four-game series. Ernie also was on base when Lee Walls smashed a three-run homer off loser Johnny Antonelli to break a 2-2 tie.

Ernie, batting .312, leads both leagues with 112 runs batted in and is tied for the lead with Washington's Harmon Killebrew in home runs. Last year he led both leagues with 47 home runs and 129 runs batted in.

Despite the defeat, the Giants retained their 2½ game lead over Los Angeles when St. Louis defeated the Dodgers 5-3. Milwaukee's third place Braves split with Pittsburgh, winning the second game of a doubleheader 5-2 after the Pirates had won the opener 2-1. Philadelphia swept a twin bill from Cincinnati 8-5 and 6-0.

Banks was an unexpected starter. He had been hit on the back by a pitch Saturday and doctors said it would be several days before Ernie would be able to play.

Bob Anderson was the winner but he needed help in the eighth inning from Don Elston, who struck out pinch hitter Felipe Alou with two runners on base. Willie Mays drove in two Giant runs with his 21st homer.

Larry Jackson pitched a 10-hitter as the Cards evened the four-game series with Los Angeles. Bill White and rookie Gene Oliver drove in all St. Louis' runs. White knocked in two with a single and his 11th homer. Oliver had a two-run single and a sacrifice fly. Roger Craig was the loser. Four were ejected in the argument-filled game, manager Solly Hemus, Don Blasingame and Ken Boyer of the Cards and Duke Snider of the Dodgers.

Bob Friend, after seven failures, finally won his 100th game, fifth of the season. The Pirates' 22-game winner of 1958 was tagged for 11 hits in the opener but his mates helped him with three double plays and relief pitcher Bob Porterfield came to his rescue in the ninth when the Braves got their lone run. Dick Stuart drove in both Pittsburgh runs off Juan Pizarro with a homer. Warren Spahn won the second for the Braves, doling out eight hits for his 16th triumph. Rookie Lee Mays and Frank Torre, with two hits and two runs each, paced the Braves' nine-hit attack.

Shortstop Joe Koppe hit a three-run homer to feature a six-run sixth inning attack in the first game and Don Cardwell pitched a six-hit shutout in the second game to highlight the Phils' double victory over Cincinnati. Wally Post's 15th homer, with a man on base in the first inning, off loser Jay Hook, was all Cardwell needed.

Wells Almost Matches Age In Golf Score

J. M. Wells, the veteran golfer, almost attained his goal Saturday when he captured the match play against par event at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Wells, who is 70, was attempting to match his age and came within one year when he fired a 71 to finish 5-up in the first division competition.

Wells posted a 37 on the first round and a 34 on the second.

W. T. Pomeroy and Norman Ankrim finished 3 up, while Don Schreckengost and Dr. R. J. Kinsey closed with 2 up.

In the second division, Russ Smith finished on top with 2 up and L. W. Smith fired 1 up.

'Ready To Go' Mitchell Says

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Browns will get a big boost when halfback Bobby Mitchell is released from Fort Lee, Va., and reports to the training camp here Thursday.

Mitchell was in Chicago over the weekend to accept an award at the college all-star game. "I'm really eager to get going this time," he said. "It just didn't seem right staying down there at the Army camp when the team was playing in Pittsburgh the other night."

Mitchell said he's in good shape and will be ready to play when the Browns play their next exhibition game, against Detroit's Lions, in the Akron Rubber Bowl.

"I'm just a couple of pounds over what I weighed at the end of last year," Mitchell said.

The sophomore speedster gained an even 500 yards in his first season in the National Football League in 1958, although he saw little action in the last five games of the campaign.

Coach Paul Brown is planning on Mitchell for the inside halfback —of left side—position.

U.S. Netters Top British, Bring Back Wightman Cup

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

SEWICKLEY, Pa. (AP) — The Wightman Cup is back in its usual nesting place in the U.S. today. And if the British hope to win it again, they're going to have to find a teammate for Christine Truman.

The British won last year in a big upset. It marked the first time they triumphed since 1930 and they figured they should keep it, especially since the Americans were without the services of Althea Gibson.

But the American lassies won by taking four of seven weekend matches.

The trouble with the British girls is that they can't hit. They all are strictly baseline players with the exception of the 6-foot, 18-year-old Miss Truman. She's a comer and will cause a lot of trouble in the future. But she needs help.

Going into the final four matches, the U.S. held a 2-1 margin. Darlene Hard, a Pomona College pre-medical student, turned back Angela Mortimer, 6-3, 6-8, 6-4 in the first singles to make it 3-1.

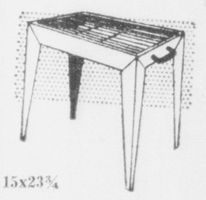

Then Mrs. Beverly Fleitz wrapped it up with a 6-4, 6-4 victory over Miss Truman.

"No doubt about it," said Mrs. Fleitz, "I was playing real well. Christine is a good player and is a comer."

Mrs. Fleitz was right on both counts. She turned out to be the power of the American team, winning both her singles.

"I'm disappointed, of course," Miss Truman said. "But I'll be around for a long time, I hope, and maybe we'll win it next year."

Walter Miller was the first jockey to ride 300 or more winners in a year, winning 388 races in 1906. His record stood for 46 years.

Souchak Will Take It Easy Following Detroit Victory

By DAVE DILES

DETROIT (AP) — Now that Mike Souchak has decided to become one of the idle rich for a few months, perhaps other golfers will be able to register a little profit here and there.

Big Mike won the $25,000 Motor City Open Golf Tournament Sunday without a struggle. He went into the final round protecting a seven stroke lead, shot a 69 and won by nine.

The payoff was $3,500. That makes it $14,000 over the last five weeks and $46,000 for the year, including some unofficial money like the $10,000 he won at the Tournament of Champions in Las Vegas.

"It all spends, though," said the easy-going former end and placekicker from Duke University. "But now I'm going home to rest. I deserve a little time off, I think."

Souchak, 32, set one record and tied another as he mastered Meadowbrook's 6,616-yard layout, which has a par of 35-36—71. Mike's second round 63 tied the course record for 18 holes and his winning total of 268 was five better than Meadowsbrook's previous 72-hole total.

Doug Ford finished strong with rounds of 67 and 70 to end in a second place tie with U.S. Open titlist Bill Casper Jr., who had a final day 69. Each won $2,050.

Art Wall Jr., the Masters Champion and winner of three other events, increased his winnings to $48,499, best on the circuit, fashioning a 72 for a three-way deadlock for fourth place with Arnold Palmer and Dutch Harrison.

600 See All-Stars Upset 'King And Court'

A crowd of 600 watched the East Liverpool All-Stars defeat the "King and His Court," the four-man softball team, 11-7, Saturday night at Patterson Field. The exhibition, featuring pitcher Eddie Feigner, was sponsored by Elks Lodge 258.

Italian Entry Captures $25.000 Trotting Race

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—Icare IV, an Italian entry, upset Trader Horn and left three Ohio-owned horses behind Saturday night in capturing the $25,000 Festival Free-for-All Trot at Roosevelt Raceway.

Driver Walter Baroncini urged Icare IV to a fast finish to nip Silver Song by a half-length. The winner trotted the mile and a quarter in 2:36 3-5 and paid a big $63.10 to win.

Favored Trader Horn ran sixth, behind third-place Jean Laird, owned by Adolph Golden of Coshocton, and fifth-place Steamin' Demon, the entry of George Van Camp of Circleville. Senator Frost, the other Ohio horse, owned by Ray foster of Lima and Wayne Galvin of Wilmington, came in eighth.

DETROIT (AP) — Now that Mike Souchak has decided to become one of the idle rich for a few months, perhaps other golfers will be able to register a little profit here and there.

Big Mike won the $25,000 Motor City Open Golf Tournament Sunday without a struggle. He went into the final round protecting a seven stroke lead, shot a 69 and won by nine.

The payoff was $3,500. That makes it $14,000 over the last five weeks and $46,000 for the year, including some unofficial money like the $10,000 he won at the Tournament of Champions in Las Vegas.

"It all spends, though," said the easy-going former end and placekicker from Duke University. "But now I'm going home to rest. I deserve a little time off, I think."

Souchak, 32, set one record and tied another as he mastered Meadowbrook's 6,616-yard layout, which has a par of 35-36—71. Mike's second round 63 tied the course record for 18 holes and his winning total of 268 was five better than Meadowsbrook's previous 72-hole total.

Doug Ford finished strong with rounds of 67 and 70 to end in a second place tie with U.S. Open titlist Bill Casper Jr., who had a final day 69. Each won $2,050.

Art Wall Jr., the Masters Champion and winner of three other events, increased his winnings to $48,499, best on the circuit, fashioning a 72 for a three-way deadlock for fourth place with Arnold Palmer and Dutch Harrison.

600 See All-Stars Upset 'King And Court'

A crowd of 600 watched the East Liverpool All-Stars defeat the "King and His Court," the four-man softball team, 11-7, Saturday night at Patterson Field. The exhibition, featuring pitcher Eddie Feigner, was sponsored by Elks Lodge 258.

Italian Entry Captures $25.000 Trotting Race

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—Icare IV, an Italian entry, upset Trader Horn and left three Ohio-owned horses behind Saturday night in capturing the $25,000 Festival Free-for-All Trot at Roosevelt Raceway.

Driver Walter Baroncini urged Icare IV to a fast finish to nip Silver Song by a half-length. The winner trotted the mile and a quarter in 2:36 3-5 and paid a big $63.10 to win.

Favored Trader Horn ran sixth, behind third-place Jean Laird, owned by Adolph Golden of Coshocton, and fifth-place Steamin' Demon, the entry of George Van Camp of Circleville. Senator Frost, the other Ohio horse, owned by Ray foster of Lima and Wayne Galvin of Wilmington, came in eighth.

Drivers Fined By City Judge

Four motorists were fined a total of $35 and costs on traffic charges by Judge George L. Brokaw at hearings today in Municipal Court. Two other drivers forfeited bonds.

Andrew H. Holtz, 144 W. 4th St., owner of the Holtz Transportation Co., was fined $10 and costs for employing an unlicensed chauffeur to operate a passenger bus while the driver, Taylor B. Smith, of MC 22, was fined $10 and costs for operating the bus without a chauffeur's license. Both pleaded guilty.

They were arrested Saturday at 3:30 p. m. on Route 7 by the State Highway Patrol. Holtz explained to the court that Smith ordinarily works in the garage and does not drive bus. He said due to a breakdown that he had to put Smith on the run so as not to hold up passengers.

Lester S. Dornon, 69, of East Palestine R. D. 1 was fined $5 and costs for crossing over a double yellow line. He was arrested Sunday night on Dresden Ave. A charge of driving without an operator's permit was continued when Dornon explained he had lost his license and was in the process of obtaining a duplicate. The charge will be dropped if he presents the duplicate license to court.

Harry V. Cunningham, 23, of 801 Green Ln. was fined $10 and costs for reckless operation. He was cited on Webber Way Sunday afternoon. Officers said he was speeding and crossing over a double yellow line in heavy traffic.

Harry Steinmetz, 41, of 1839 Lisbon St. forfeited an $11 bond for crashing a traffic light Saturday morning at W. 4th and Jackson Sts.

John Mansfield of R. D. 2 forfeited a $16 bond for passing without the assured clear distance. He was arrested on County Road 430 Sunday afternoon.
